PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—
The international search for Agnes C. Tufver, missing
New York and Detroit corporation lawyer, turned to Philadelphia.

Police of this city were drawn into the baffling case when it was revealed that the missing woman had probably come to Philadelphia from New York just before she vanished on the eve of a scheduled European honeymoon with Capt.
Ivan Paderjaj, Yugoslavian adventurer, now being held on bigamy charges by authorities of Vienna, Austria.

Two Philadelphia detectives were assigned to cooperate with New York police in the hunt for some local trace of the woman who disappeared more than six months ago and who is feared to have fallen victim of foul play.

At detective headquarters this morning International News Service was informed that the two sluicings were "still out on the case."
"We have uncovered nothing tangible as yet," the police authorities said.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The first heligramite of the season was sent to the News Office Wednesday by Earl Collins, of East New Castle, who caught the big bug on his front porch. Heligramites spend part of their life in the water as a long black worm, with a pair of pincers on the front. When it changes into the adult form, it drops the many pairs of legs along its side and grows a pair of wings, which are transparent.

Young Pa News noticed an automobile passing through the diamond bearing 1933 Michigan plates Wednesday afternoon.

On Friday afternoon parochial schools in the city will end their 1933-34 term.

Among the strange creatures of the animal kingdom brought to The News office today was a giant garden spider, the body of which was almost as large as a man's little finger and whose legs had a spread of several inches. It had a number of little spiders clustered about on its back. It was found in a garden along the Harlansburg road by John McChurg of Morton street.

A few drops of rain fell last night
Pa News is told.

The bugs and beetles and cutworms that mark ruin to garden products seem to have come through the severe winter in better health than ever. The cut-worms are numerous, according to report, from gardeners, and are doing great damage.

With most of the street cars now in use on the city lines, nicely repainted, they present a much improved appearance.

Russia Fails To Make Plan To Settle Debt

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Resumption of negotiations at Moscow between Ambassador William C.
Bullitt and Soviet Foreign Commis-sar Maxim Litvinoff for a settlement of the American debt and damage claims against Soviet Russia have failed to bring any results.

Moscow still is insisting upon a cash loan from the United States government as the price for its willingness to make any payments on the debt and damage claims.

It was hoped here today the Soviets would abandon the idea of expecting such a loan upon resumption of negotiations, which were interrupted by Litvinoff's visit to Geneva.

The Soviets had been notified both through diplomatic channels here and at Moscow that it was ridiculous for them to expect this government to grant a cash loan at this time. However, when the negotiations were resumed following Litvinoff's return to Moscow, the Soviets still maintained their stand for the cash loan.

Ambassador Bullitt now is seeking to persuade Litvinoff to change the Kremlin's mind and go ahead with "practical" negotiations for a settlement. The American position, it was learned, is that no settlement can be reached as long as the Soviets insist on a cash loan as part of the agreement.

Officials here are hopeful a little more pressure by Bullitt may move the Soviets to come to terms.

GUNMEN WOUND MAN
CHICAGO, June 21.—Two shabby gunmen today entered a loop restaurant, looked over the customers eating early breakfasts and finally pointed at one man and said:
"That's him."

Both gunmen opened fire with automatic pistols and the victim, Robert Berg, 24, of Sheridan road, fell to the floor wounded in the eye and the back.

FIFTY WORKMEN KILLED
MOSCOW, June 21.—Approximately fifty workmen were killed in a severe explosion which wrecked the interior of the four story frunze Chemical factory in Moscow, on June 16, International News Service learned exclusively today.

No official account of the catastrophe has yet been issued.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED
MULHOUSE, France, June 21.—
Five persons were killed and ten injured today when a passenger train entered the Mulhouse railway station at high speed and out of control. The locomotive hit a heavy bumper at the end of the track and three wooden passenger coaches were telescoped.

AMBASSADORS CHANGED
BERLIN, June 21.—Rudolf Nadolny, German ambassador to Moscow, was officially retired today by President Von Hindenburg. Count Werner Von Der Schulenburg was appointed as his successor.

The official announcement of the change in ambassadorship emphasized that no change in Germany's policies toward the Soviet union was contemplated.

ARRIVE IN EAST
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 21.
—Elliott Roosevelt, his wife and baby arrived here today aboard the Twentieth Century Limited after a trip from Fort Worth.

The Roosevelts flew from Fort Worth to Cleveland, where they boarded the Century last night. It made a special stop at Poughkeepsie for their convenience.

Just how destructive the 17-year locust can be is clearly seen by an exhibit at the office of The News, which was brought in by Scott
Brest, of Little Beaver township.

Mr. Brest brought in several small branches from chestnut and maple trees, which were dying from the damage done by female locusts in laying their eggs.

The bark was split open for a distance of several feet along the twigs and smaller branches, causing that part of the tree to die. The female locust is laying its eggs in the bark of the twig or branch. The locust seemingly does more damage in this manner than in destroying the vegetation by eating it off.

Diary Kept By Slain George
T. Manis, Is Being Stud-

SEEK FACTS OF BLACKMAIL PLOT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., June 21.—
The reported discovery of a diary said to belong to George T. Manis, slain female impersonator, today was expected to throw additional light on the death of the youth.

The diary, believed to cover Manis' activities during the past year, was reportedly in the possession of District Attorney Warren S.
Buchinal of Washington county.

County authorities were said to be studying the diary in search of a motive of the killing of Manis, whose death has been charged to George Bartholomew, Washington and Jefferson physical education instructor.

No verification of the reported existence of the diary was made by officials. It is understood, however, that details in the book coincide with facts of the youth's death to frustrate an alleged blackmail attempt.

Coroner William Baker said today that the inquest in the matter of Manis' death may be postponed indefinitely. Bartholomew is still being held in the county jail on the murder charge.

Three Are Facing Extortion Charge

Prepare To Arraign Trio In Alleged Plot In Beaver Falls

HEAVY SENTENCE CAN BE IMPOSED

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., June 21.—Charged with attempted extortion, three Beaver Falls men arrested by federal agents were lodged in county jail here today, awaiting arraignment before the United States commissioner.

The three, Richard Thomas, 36;
James E. Harrington, 21, and Len-neth Weir, 20, are charged with demanding $10,000 in a letter threatening death to Mrs. Nellie E. Beagle, socially prominent resident of Beaver Falls, or to some other member of her family.

Kept From Intended Victim.
Mrs. Beagle is the widow of F. N.
Beagle, former president of the Union Drawn Steel Company, III at her home. Mrs. Beagle is said to have known nothing of the alleged extortion plot until after the men were arrested.

The three men, if convicted of the attempted extortion charge, stand to receive a maximum fine of $5,000.

Defense Lawyer In Davis Trial Dies Suddenly

Robert Ivory, Sr., 75, Pittsburgh, Drops Dead In Carlyle, Ill., Hotel

JURY STILL OUT AFTER 15 HOURS

(International News Service)
CARLYLE, Ill., June 21.—Unexpected tragedy entered the case of 15-year-old Thomas A. Davis, Jr., of Pittsburgh on trial in circuit court here when Robert S. Ivory, Sr., 75-year-old Pittsburgh attorney, who is chief of defense counsel for the youth, dropped dead this morning.

The elderly attorney collapsed in a hallway of the Truesdell hotel here where he was making his headquarters during the trial.

Dr. W. L. Ducomb, the attending physician and Coroner B. J. Kellerman attributed death to apoplexy.

Jury Still Out
Meanwhile a jury which was given the case yesterday at 5 p. m. continued to deliberate this morning without a verdict. At 8 a. m. this morning they had been out fifteen hours. The youth is charged with assault with intent to kill and robbery with a gun growing out of an alleged attack on Deputy Sheriff J.
H. Donnewald.

Young Davis testified that Donnew-ald was shot while he was struggling with the deputy and while both had hold of the gun. He claimed he also was struck by the bullet which wounded the deputy in the arm. Donnewald, testifying for the prosecution, declared that Davis fired at him deliberately.

Robert Ivory, Jr., of Pittsburgh was informed immediately of his father's death and declared that he was lying here by plane.

Witnesses said that the attorney in falling, struck his head against the wall knocking a hole in the plaster.

The elderly lawyer delivered an eloquent and fiery closing argument yesterday afternoon and physicians believe that the exertion may have been a contributory factor in his stroke.

Eye Witness Tells Of Wreck Of Dresden

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following graphic eye witness story of the wreck of the Dresden by one of the survivors, Otto Gerlach, of Saarbrücken, Germany, was told to an International News Service staff correspondent in a Norwegian hospital.

By OTTO GERLACH
STAVANGER, Norway, June 21.—
"It was a terrible experience.
"But it would have been a greater tragedy if it were not for the coolheadedness of the ship's officers.
"We were having dinner at about 7:30 o'clock when there was a terrific crash and a lurching of the ship.
"We were thrown to the floor from our chairs amidst flying crockery.
"Then there was a concerted rush for the deck. It was giddy but the officers assured us there was no immediate danger.
"Sometime later the ship started to list. Lifeboats were ordered lowered. As they began to lower the first two boats loaded with women the ship lurched some more and the lifeboats overturned and fell about 20 feet into the water.
"Some of those on deck were so

LEGISLATIVE ACTION MUST APPROPRIATE

Johnstown Banker Dies Suddenly At Home This Morning

David Barry, Under Conviction
On Banking Charges,
Passes Away

ARTHUR MOMETER

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 21.— Convicted last week of violating the state banking law, David Barry, brother-in-law of Charles M.
Schwab and former president of the First National Bank and the Title Trust and Guaranty company, died suddenly here today.

Death of the 68-year-old banker, found guilty and awaiting sentence on four charges for violating the state banking law, followed a heart attack.

The First National Bank, the city's largest banking institution, has been closed for the past 10 months, the Title Trust and Guaranty Trust company is also closed.

Barry was convicted in Cambria county court last Friday on a charge of making false entries in violation of the state banking law.
Together with other former officials of the First National Bank, he was facing trial in Pittsburgh federal court in the autumn on indications for violations of the national banking law.

night sun" cruise from Germany and was beached in time to save practically all her 1,340 passengers and crew, turned on her side and sank below the waves of Karmoe Sound today, a 550 foot, 13,690 ton ship costing in the neighborhood of $10-

Contrary to earlier reports only two bodies, both women were in the temporary morgue of the little Norwegian fishing village of Stavanger.

It was believed this afternoon that the death toll would not exceed four.
Two women were drowned when a lifeboat capsized as it was being lowered into the water and a third, injured in a panic rush, died in a hospital. A fourth woman is missing and is thought to have jumped into the sea.

Some Passengers Returned
Before the ship finally sank today some of the passengers had returned to it looking for their belongings.
They and the members of the crew who had gone back on had plenty of warning and were safely taken off before the ship rolled over and sank.

The survivors all without extra clothes and many without money, made a pathetic picture today as they clustered together at the cable offices of the villages of Stavanger, Haukersund and Kopervik, their difficulties increased by their unfamiliarity with the Norwegian language.

however, were doing everything to

Consistory To Have Reunion Here Next Week

Annual Spring Gathering Of Scottish Rite Bodies Occurs
Thursday And Friday

Arrangements are being completed for the annual Spring Reunion of the New Castle Consistory, A.A.S.R., which will be held on June 28 and 29, Commander-in-Chief John E. White stated today.

One of the big features of this year's reunion will be the program of entertainment arranged for the ladies on Friday, the closing day of the reunion.

A committee, headed by Mrs. John E. White, is now engaged in mapping out the day's program.

Expect Large Class.

Indications point to a large class of candidates taking the degrees, Mr. White stated, and the reunion is expected to prove one of the most interesting yet held. The spirit of Masonic fellowship will prevail, and another of those old-fashioned reunions is expected to take place.

The 32nd degree will be conferred Friday afternoon, and will be followed by the program of the Consistory Dinner club at 6 o'clock.

SEEK FACTS OF BLACKMAIL PLOT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., June 21.—The reported discovery of a diary said to belong to George T. Manis, slain female impersonator, today was expected to throw additional light on the death of the youth.

The diary, believed to cover Manis' activities during the past year, was reportedly in the possession of District Attorney Warren S. Buchanan of Washington county.

County authorities were said to be studying the diary in search of a motive of the killing of Manis, whose death has been charged to George Bartholomew, Washington and Jefferson physical education instructor.

No verification of the reported existence of the diary was made by officials. It is understood, however, that details in the book coincide with facts of the youth's death to frustrate an alleged blackmail attempt.

Coroner William Baker said today that the inquest in the matter of Manis' death will be postponed indefinitely. Bartholomew is still being held in the county jail on the murder charge.

Three Are Facing Extortion Charge

Alleged Plot In Beaver
Falls

HEAVY SENTENCE
CAN BE IMPOSED

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., June 21.—Charged with attempted extortion, three Beaver Falls men arrested by federal agents were lodged in county jail here today, awaiting arraignment before the United States commissioner.

The three, Richard Thomas, 36; James E. Harrington, 21, and Leneth Weir, 20, are charged with demanding $10,000 in a letter threatening death to Mrs. Nellie E. Beagle, socially prominent resident of Beaver Falls, or to some other member of her family.

Kept From Intended Victim.
Mrs. Beagle is the widow of F. N. Beagle, former president of the Union Drawn Steel Company. Ill at her home, Mrs. Beagle is said to have known nothing of the alleged extortion plot until after the men were arrested.

The three men, if convicted of the attempted extortion charge, stand to receive a maximum fine of $5,000. (Continued On Page Two)

Bond Provided For Roxie Long On Charge Here

Bond, in the amount of $1500 has been received by Alderman O. H. P. Green for Roxie Long, Pittsburgher, who is charged with defrauding local wholesale merchants out of $2000 worth of groceries. Roxie gave himself up in Pittsburgh last night and furnished the bond required. He has waived a preliminary hearing before Green.

His wife, Virginia, is out on $500 bail but it is thought that she will waive a preliminary hearing also. Samuel Hoffman, charged with conspiracy with Long, is at large yet but the Pittsburgh officers expect to apprehend him.

Shows Damage Done By Locusts

Tree Twigs Are Split Open By Locusts, Killing Part Of Tree

Just how destructive the 17-year locust can be is clearly seen by an exhibit at the office of The News, which was brought in by Scott Brest, of Little Beaver township.

Mr. Brest brought in several small branches from chestnut and maple trees, which were dying from the damage done by female locusts in laying their eggs.

The bark was split open for a distance of several feet along the twigs and smaller branches, causing that part of the tree to die. The female locust in laying its eggs, inserts its sharp ovipositor underneath the bark of the twig or branch. The locust seemingly does more damage in this manner than in destroying the vegetation by eating it off.

FOUR LOST WHEN GERMAN STEAMER SINKS OFF NORWAY

Here is the German steamship Dresden which was reported sunk with the loss of four, when it struck a submerged rock off the coast of Norway during a pleasure cruise with almost 1,000 passengers aboard. JURY STILL OUT
AFTER 15 HOURS

(International News Service)
CARIYLE, Ill., June 21.—Unexpected tragedy entered the case of 19-year-old Thomas A. Davis, Jr., of Pittsburgh, on trial in circuit court here when Robert S. Ivory, Sr., 75-year-old Pittsburgh attorney, who is chief of defense counsel for the youth, dropped dead this morning.

The elderly attorney collapsed in a hallway of the Truesdell hotel here where he was making his headquarters during the trial.

Dr. W. L. Ducomb, the attending physician and coroner E. J. Kallman attributed death to apoplexy.

Jury Still Out
Meanwhile a jury which was given the case yesterday at 5 p. m. continued to deliberate this morning without a verdict. At 8 a. m. this morning they had been out fifteen hours. The youth is charged with assault with intent to kill and robbery with a gun growing out of an alleged attack on Deputy Sheriff J. H. Donnwald.

Young Davis testified that Donnwald was shot while he was struggling with the deputy and while both had hold of the gun. He claimed he also was struck by the bullet which wounded the deputy in the arm. Donnwald, testifying for the prosecution, declared that Davis fired at him deliberately.

Robert Ivory, of Pittsburgh, was informed immediately of his father's death and declared that he was flying here by plane.

Witnesses said that the attorney in falling, struck his head against the hall wall knocking a hole in the plaster.

The elderly lawyer delivered an eloquent and fiery closing argument yesterday afternoon and physicians believe that the exertion may have been a contributory factor in his stroke.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION MUST APPROPRIATE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 21.—Belief in some quarters that another special session of the legislature will be necessary to supply funds to meet the state's relief needs gained ground today with Gov. Gifford Pinchot's veto of a plan to transfer the needed money from the motor fund.

The governor had high telegraphed Albin B. Johnson, president of the state chamber of commerce, that the motor fund transfer plan which also had been urged by State Treasurer Charles A. Waters, was "based on a mistake." He explained:

"Under the act you mention, money could be transferred from the motor fund to the general fund, but it could not be used for relief.

"The state can spend no money without an appropriation by the legislature. There is no existing appropriation for relief." (Continued On Page Two)

Johnstown Banker Dies Suddenly At Home This Morning

David Barry, Under Conviction
On Banking Charges,
Passes Away

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 21.—Convicted last week of violating the state banking law, David Barry, brother-in-law of Charles M. Schwab and former president of the First National Bank and the Title Trust and Guarantee company, died suddenly here today.

Death of the 68-year-old banker, found guilty and awaiting sentence on four charges for violating the state banking law, followed a heart attack.

The First National Bank, the city's largest banking institution, has been closed for the past 16 months, the Title Trust and Guarantee Trust company is also closed.

Barry was convicted in Cambria county court last Friday on a charge of making false entries in violation of the state banking law. Together with other former officials of the First National Bank, he was facing trial in Pittsburgh federal court in the autumn on indictments for violations of the national banking law.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 21.—You can't beat Oklahoma for originality. Guess you read about the outlaws with a big truck—with a winch attachment on it—back up to the bank to kidnap the safe.

Everybody in town came down to see the show.

Due to the outlaws having done no physical work in so long, they wasn't stout enough to load it in. But they notified the bank that they will be back right away and the bank is to have a smaller safe.

The future of bank robberies is to arrange some way to charge admission. So many people seeking robberies free, is what's killing the business.

Detroit Police Revive Trunk Murder Mystery Of 1920 In Connection With Search

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The international search for Agnes C. Tufverson, missing New York and Detroit corporation lawyer, turned to Philadelphia.

Police of this city were drawn into the baffling case when it was revealed that the missing woman had probably come to Philadelphia from New York just before she vanished on the eve of a scheduled European honeymoon with Capt. Ivan Puderjay, Yugoslavian adventurer now being held on bigamy charges by authorities of Vienna, Austria.

Two Philadelphia detectives were assigned to cooperate with New York police in the hunt for the disappeared woman more than six months ago and who is feared to have fallen victim of foul play.

At detective headquarters this morning International News Service was informed that the two sleuths were "still out on the case."

"We have uncovered nothing tangible as yet," the police authorities said.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The first helgramite of the season was sent to the News Office Wednesday by Earl Collins, of East New Castle, who caught the big bug on his front porch. Helgramites spend part of their life in the water as a long black worm, with a pair of plumpers on the front. When it changes into the adult form, it drops the many pairs of legs along its side and grows a pair of wings, which are transparent.

Young Pa New noticed an automobile passing through the diamond bearing 1933 Michigan plates Wednesday afternoon.

On Friday afternoon parochial schools in the city will end their 1933-34 term.

Among the strange creatures of the animal kingdom brought to The News office today was a giant garden spider, the body of which was almost as large as a man's little finger and whose legs had a spread of several inches. It had a number of little spiders clustered about on its back. It was found in a garden along the Harlansburg road by John McClurg of Morton street.

A few drops of rain fell last night Pa New is told.

The bugs and beetles and cutworms that mark ruin to garden products seem to have come through the severe winter in better health than ever. The cutworms are numerous, according to report from gardeners, and are doing great damage.

With most of the street cars now in use on the city lines, nicely repainted, they present a much improved appearance.

Russia Fails To Make Plan To Settle Debt

By KINGSBURY SMITH

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 21.—Resumption of negotiations at Moscow between Ambassador William C. Bullitt and Soviet Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinoff for a settlement of the American debt and damage claims against Soviet Russia have failed to bring any results.

Moscow still is insisting upon a cash loan from the United States government as the price for its willingness to make any payments on the debt and damage claims.

It was hoped here today the Soviets would abandon the idea of expecting such a loan upon resumption of negotiations, which were interrupted by Litvinoff's visit to Geneva.

The Soviets had been notified both through diplomatic channels here and at Moscow that it was ridiculous for them to expect this government to grant a cash loan at this time. However, when the negotiations resumed following Litvinoff's return to Moscow, the Soviets still maintained their stand for the cash loan.

Ambassador Bullitt now is seeking to persuade Litvinoff to change the Kremlin's mind and go ahead with "practical" negotiations for a settlement. The American position, it was learned, is that no settlement can be reached as long as the Soviets insist on a cash loan as part of the agreement.

Officials here are hopeful a little more pressure by Bullitt may move the Soviets to come to terms.

Dr. J. Alvin Orr To Be Moderator

DR. J. ALVIN ORR

Dr. J. Alvin Orr, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, Northside, was elected moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America at the assembly being held this week at Oxford, Ohio.

Dr. Orr, who is well known in New Castle, having been here many times as speaker in the United Presbyterian churches, was elected over Dr. F. Scott McBride, of Washington, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. They were the only candidates for the highest office in the church.

The election showed the tendency of the delegates on the merger question as Dr. Orr has been looked upon as a foe of the union with the Presbyterian church and Dr. McBride as a proponent.

The conference is to vote on whether to submit to its presbyteries a plan of merger approved by the sister denomination.

Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city is delegate from the Beaver Valley Presbytery. Rev. D. L. Ferguson of the Highland church is attending the sessions.

Dr. Harry Rose of New Wilmington, synodical superintendent, and Dr. Ralph Neale, New Wilmington, commissioner from the Mercer Presbytery are also present from this vicinity.

panic stricken that they jumped or fell into the water. I attempted to swing down to the water on a rope to save a woman in the water but I was injured when I was thrown against the ship's side.

It was awful hearing their screams as they struggled about in the water. All the time the sea was very rough but through marvelous seamanship the sailors from the King Harold, which had answered our SOS, managed to pick up most of those in the water but I fear that several lives were lost.

"Later most of those aboard were taken into the Kronprinzess Martha, another ship which had heard our call, on an improvised gangplank."

McCormick Is Sentenced Year To Workhouse

Convicted Of Involuntary Manslaughter In Connection With Death Of Leona Cwynar

James Oscar McCormick, convicted of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Leona Cwynar in an automobile accident, was sentenced to pay $100 fine and costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny county workhouse for one year, at sentence court held by Judge R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers this forenoon.

McCormick was driving on Atlantic avenue when he struck Miss Cwynar. At the trial of the case he did not go on the witness stand. When he was called for sentence this morning his attorneys stated that the reason he had not gone on the witness stand was because he could not say whether or not he had struck the girl.

No question but that he had been drinking was raised, but leniently was asked on the grounds that he has always borne a good reputation.

Two Policemen Slain
Two policemen were slain under a hail of machine-gun bullets and Norma's bridegroom of four months awaits the electric chair for his leadership in the young firing, his brother, and Abe Faber were also convicted of first degree murder.

Norma's own handwriting was used against her through the testimony of Saul Messenger, star witness for the prosecution.

Saul, former schoolmate of Murtton, asked as "mail box" for the bandit trio. He was at Coney Island, New York City. After Murtton and Irving, D. C., following the robbery, Messenger relayed mail from them to Faber who remained in Boston.

Messenger identified two letters as having been written by Norma from Washington, D. C., and relayed by him to Abe Faber in Boston.

The alleged extortion letters to Mrs. Beagle were intercepted by her son, C. H. Beagle, banker and manufacturer, who notified authorities in spite of a written threat that this should not be done. The extortion notes were described by police as being a highly fictionalized piece of work, parts of which were taken from a detective story magazine.

Mrs. Beagle, who returned from Florida about a month ago, has been under the care of a physician since that time. Considerable alarm was caused her relatives by the receipt of the letters.

PRESIDENT IS AT WORK ABOARD YACHT

Will Take Action On Hundred Bills

To Witness Harvard-Yale Boat Races From Yacht Friday

LEAVES NEXT WEEK ON LONG VACATION

(International News Service) NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 21.—President Roosevelt tackled a batch of work brought north from Washington today as the presidential yacht Sequoia moved northward up Long Island Sound from New Haven to New London, Conn.

The executive boarded the boat yesterday here, and this morning at an early hour was sailing up the sound. Tomorrow from the decks of the Sequoia he will watch the Harvard-Yale boat races.

Has Bills To Dispose Of.

The president has more than a hundred bills before him for action as he moved northward. He will act on them as speedily as possible.

The president's trip north from here marked the beginning of a long summer vacation. He will be in his Hyde Park, N. Y., home on Sunday and Monday.

Leaving Hyde Park on Monday night, the president will return to the capitol, and on Saturday and Sunday will motor 30 miles to Annapolis, Md., to board the cruiser Houston for a trip to Honolulu, Hawaii.

The search was predicated on the case histories of previous disappearances—notably that of the wife of Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, who was slain in her London home by her husband and her body destroyed by quicklime.

One of the greater difficulties confronting the police in the sensational case is the absence of conclusive evidence that Miss Tufverson, who dropped from sight following her marriage last December to the dashing "Captain" Ivan Poderjay, is actually dead.

Guilty Of Swindles

Vienna, June 21.—The police announced today that Ivan Poderjay, the Jugo-Slavian who married Miss Agnes Tufverson, in New York, had been guilty of several check swindles in London.

Poderjay, the police added, had received financial support from several women in addition to Miss Tufverson, from whom he admits having borrowed money.

The self-styled Jugo-Slavian "captain," held here on a bigamy charge, continues to deny any knowledge of the whereabouts of Miss Tufverson who vanished after her marriage to him.

Revive Old Case

Detroit, June 21.—Fingerprints of Eugene Leroy, sought since 1920 for the trunk murder of his wife, Catherine, today were sent to Vienna for comparison with the prints of Ivan Poderjay, on orders of Superintendent John P. Smith.

Smith said there is a marked resemblance between a picture of Poderjay and a police picture of Leroy.

Leroy, for whom a $1,000 reward is offered, disappeared before the dismembered body was found in a warehouse in New York.

It is believed the murder occurred June 9, 1920 and the body was shipped to New York by express and found a month later. The Leroy lived in an apartment here.

Detroit detectives have sought Leroy in Mexico, China, and other parts of the world.

Thinks Daughter Dead

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 21.—A 70-year-old heart broken father, tears streaming down his wrinkled face, told International News Service today that he firmly believes his missing daughter, Agnes Tufverson Poderjay, is dead and prays that he too may die soon.

The grief-stricken father is Olaf Tufverson. He sat alone in his home here—the one in which Agnes was born 43 years ago—and told of the dream which convinces him his daughter is dead.

PRESIDENT IS AT WORK ABOARD YACHT

Will Take Action On Hundred Bills

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 21.—President Roosevelt tackled a batch of work brought north from Washington today as the presidential yacht Sequoia moved northward up Long Island Sound from New Haven to New London, Conn.

The executive boarded the boat yesterday here, and this morning at an early hour was sailing up the sound. Tomorrow from the decks of the Sequoia he will watch the Harvard-Yale boat races.

Has Bills To Dispose Of.

The president has more than a hundred bills before him for action as he moved northward. He will act on them as speedily as possible.

The president's trip north from here marked the beginning of a long summer vacation. He will be in his Hyde Park, N. Y., home on Sunday and Monday.

Leaving Hyde Park on Monday night, the president will return to the capitol, and on Saturday and Sunday will motor 30 miles to Annapolis, Md., to board the cruiser Houston for a trip to Honolulu, Hawaii.

proved appearance, and add much to the impression given in the city. A little paint helps a lot. Many buildings and homes are also being painted, the city taking on a much improved appearance in many sections this summer.

Despite drought, etc., the rose gardens seem to be as lovely as ever this summer. Most of them are new at their height of beauty.

Corn seems to be growing rapidly these days.

Despite the fact that there is a ban on use of fireworks in the city, their seems to be quite a lot of premature celebrating of the Fourth going on in the city. Especially is the celebrating noticeable near the outskirts of the city.

Another section of street paving is being torn up on Washington street today, as repaving progresses. The block east of Mercer street, is now being torn up.

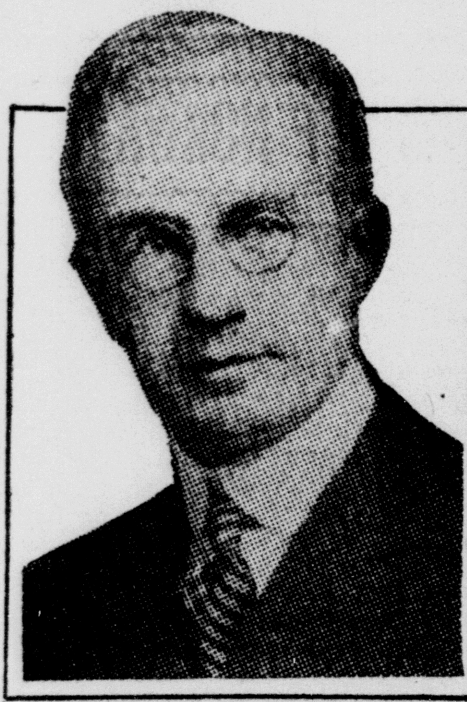

Juanita Club

Mrs. Earl Bishop of Maryland avenue, will be hostess Friday evening to the Juanita club instead of Mrs. William Naysmith of Ray street.

Dr. J. Alvin Orr To Be Moderator

DR. J. ALVIN ORR

Dr. J. Alvin Orr, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, Northside, was elected moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America at the assembly being held this week at Oxford, Ohio.

Dr. Orr, who is well known in New Castle, having been here many times as speaker in the United Presbyterian churches, was elected over Dr. F. Scott McBride, of Washington, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League. They were the only candidates for the highest office in the church.

The election showed the tendency of the delegates on the merger question as Dr. Orr has been looked upon as a foe of the union with the Presbyterian church and Dr. McBride as a proponent.

The conference is to vote on whether to submit to its presbytery a plan of merger approved by the sister denomination.

Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city is delegate from the Beaver Valley Presbytery. Rev. D. L. Ferguson of the Highland church is attending the sessions.

Dr. Harry Rose of New Wilmington, synodical superintendent, and Dr. Ralph Neale, New Wilmington, commissioner from the Mercer Presbytery are also present from this vicinity.

McCormick Is Sentenced Year To Workhouse

Convicted Of Involuntary Manslaughter In Connection With Death Of Leona Cwynar

James Oscar McCormick, convicted of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Leona Cwynar in an automobile accident, was sentenced to pay $100 fine and costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny county workhouse for one year, at sentence court held by Judge R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers this forenoon.

McCormick was driving on Atlantic avenue when he struck Miss Cwynar. At the trial of the case he did not go on the witness stand. When he was called for sentence this morning his attorneys stated that the reason he had not gone on the witness stand was because he could not say whether or not he had struck the girl.

No question but that he had been drinking was raised, but leniency was asked on the grounds that he has always borne a good reputation.

Life Term For Brown's Slayer

(International News Service)
MT. HOLLY, N. J., June 21.—Adam Szwczak was sentenced to life imprisonment in Burlington county court today for the murder of Bradley Brown, wealthy and socially prominent young executive of a Philadelphia company.

The dramatic end of Czwczak's trial came when he changed his plea from one of not guilty to "no defense."

testimony linking the pretty daughter of an ex-minister with the Needham Trust company robbery.

Two Policemen Slain.

Two policemen were slain under a hail of machine-gun bullets and Norma's bridegroom for four months awaits the electric chair for his leadership in the crime. Irving, his brother, and Abe Faber were also convicted of first degree murder.

Norma's own handwriting was used against her through the testimony of Saul Messenger, star witness for the prosecution.

Saul, former schoolmate of Murtin, acted as "mail box" for the bandit trio. He resides at Coney Island, New York City. After Murtin and Irving, with Norma, fled to Washington, D. C., following the robbery, Messenger relayed mail from them to Faber who remained in Boston.

Messenger identified two letters as having been written by Norma from Washington, D. C., and relayed by him to Abe Faber in Boston.

or 20 years imprisonment, or both. These are the penalties imposed under a recent act of congress.

The alleged extortion letters to Mrs. Beegle were intercepted by her son, C. H. Beegle, banker and manufacturer, who notified authorities in spite of a written threat that this should not be done. The extortion notes were described by police as being a highly fictionalized piece of work, parts of which were taken from a detective story magazine.

Mrs. Beegle, who returned from Florida about a month ago, has been under the care of a physician since that time. Considerable alarm was caused her relatives by the receipt of the letters.

RED CROSS PARTY LARGELY ATTENDED

With over 200 tables of bridge and 500 in play during the evening, in addition to a large number playing bingo, the benefit card party which was given last evening in the Cathedral proved an enjoyable and successful affair.

The various committees under the direction of Mrs. John S. Crowl, general chairman, had worked hard for the success of the affair, and their efforts were well rewarded.

Honor scores in 500 went to Mrs. J. W. Staudinger, auction bridge, Mrs. Ray Hall, and contract bridge, Mrs. Anna Eagan.

At the close of the period for cards, an interesting musical program was presented, with solos by W. O. ("Red") Williams, who also acted as master of ceremonies; and "Bill" Jones, of Ellwood City; readings by Miss Betty Glover; and a dance number by Miss Nellie Brady.

Most of the guests joined in the play of bingo until a late hour. This latter feature was carried out under the direction of the Legion of Honor, with Commander Ches Sweezy in charge.

There was also fortune telling by a group under the direction of Mrs. Bessie Coates Pitzer.

Section E Breakfast
Amid the beauties of the park and enjoying the fresh morning air the members of Section E of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church sat down to breakfast at Cascade Wednesday morning, with three special guests sharing the pleasure: Mrs. Earl McKnight, Mrs. C. R. Brenner and Mrs. J. Seamon.

After appeasing the hearty appetites, the women enjoyed boating, swimming and informal pastimes for the remainder of the day.

The next meeting will be in the form of a breakfast in two weeks.

G. N. T. Club
A pleasant time was enjoyed Wednesday by the G. N. T. club members who went to Cascade park for dinner; it being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Wick, one of the club members, she was wished many happy returns of the day.

After partaking of a delicious repast, the afternoon was enjoyed in the park amusements and each other's society.

Plans were made to meet July 12 at the home of Mrs. H. Smith, Beaver street.

500 Club
Mrs. George Hurn, Galbreath avenue, will be hostess to the 500 club next Tuesday evening.

CLASS '14 ENJOYS TWENTIETH REUNION

School days lived again in memories recalled at the twentieth annual reunion of the high school class of 1914 which was held Wednesday June 20, at "Kirkwood" the summer home of Herbert S. Kirk on King's Chapel road.

There were fifty five of the graduates back, among them being two from a distance, John Register of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Vesta Snyder King, of Salem, O. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Orth, the latter, principal of the present high school who was one of the 1914 class instructors twenty years ago.

Regrets for her inability to attend were read from Miss Mary Riffer, also an instructor of this class in 1914 who is still teaching in the present high school. Edwin Sargent, now deceased, was principal at that time.

Communications were read from other former instructors including Miss Rose Stewart who is at the University of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Mary Mossman Beattie of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sturgeon (Lucille Van Gorder.) From former students, letters were read from Mrs. Margaret Fulkerson Carlon and Loyal Carlon of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Essel Druschel Gross.

A delightful program of entertainment was provided for the afternoon which consisted of golf and horseshoes for the "boys" and informal diversions for the "girls." Swimming was enjoyed by the younger generation.

For an elegant supper served at six thirty at twenty tables, the class colors of yellow and blue were used. In a prominent place over the center table was displayed the old 1914 banner which had been used at both commencement and class-day exercises in the "Olden days." It is still in a well preserved state.

Of additional interest were a class poem by Miss Katherine Foulke, one of the former popular instructors who is now living in New Wilmington with her sister Mrs. E. B. Russell, and a receipt for $108.00 which was the amount it cost this class to replace a new flag pole on the new high school site, having innocently tried to "bend" same the year they left school. Mrs. Mamie Marlin Cosel has this treasure in her possession.

A further celebration of the class of 1914's twentieth anniversary will be held this evening at the Cathedral when the big alumni reunion of all "old grads" will take place. Arrangements have been made to have a large birthday cake as a table centerpiece and it is possible that this class will have an even larger representative of members at tonight's event.

The very efficient committee to whom much credit is due for yesterday's successful event was composed of Mrs. Mamie Marlin Cosel, John Powers, Herbert Kirk, Mrs. Ruth Dufford Calvin and Mrs. Rachel Pollock Taylor.

MADAME RYAN SCORES TRIUMPH IN NEW YORK

New Castle relatives and friends of Madame Charlotte Griffith Ryan who have been following her eminently successful musical career will be interested to know that she scored another triumph Wednesday evening in New York when she sang the role "Elizabeth" in the Wagnerian opera "Tannhauser."

"Tannhauser" was the Hippodrome's first production of the summer season and the second Wagnerian opera to be added to the repertoire of the company of which Madame Ryan is one of the principal singers. The supporting cast included Dreda Aves as Venus, Louis Dorne in the title role and Carl Schiffer as Wolfram.

It is further interesting to note that last fall when Madame Ryan sang this same role in New York before an audience of some five or six thousand people, she was called upon to respond to a half dozen curtain calls. Miss Gertrude Fulkerson of Smithfield street, who is a friend of the talented artist, was in the audience that evening and had the pleasure of hearing the performance.

Madame Ryan was born and raised in New Castle, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Griffith of Carlisle street. She is a sister of Steve and John Griffith and Mrs. James Eagan of this city. Mrs. William Monteverdi (Mary Griffith) and Leo Griffith of Pittsburgh.

GOLDEN WEDDING IS PLANNED FOR WYMAN
Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wyman, 939 Maryland avenue, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Monday, July 2, at their home with a family dinner, also a reception for friends and neighbors during the hours of 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p. m.

July 2, 1884, George W. Wyman and Mary Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenwood, the ceremony being performed in the parsonage of the First Methodist church of Beaver Falls.

To this union was born three children; a daughter, who is now Mrs. R. D. Phillips, and two sons, George H. and Frank C., both of this city. The Wyman family lived in New Castle the past 48 years and Mr. Wyman has been a police officer the past 30 years. In addition to his activities as a police officer Mr. Wyman finds time to be active in lodge work, being treasurer of the Protected Home Circle and the Sons of Veterans, president of the Fire Police; a member of the F. O. E., the M. W. of A. and the New Castle Volunteer department.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman are members of the First Methodist church.

Perry-Bongivengo
In the St. Vitus church Wednesday morning the marriage of Miss Frances Perry daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perry, of 220 South Jefferson street, and Anthony Bongivengo, son of Peter Bongivengo, of 12 Bank street, took place. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, officiated.

Miss Mary Peluso served as maid of honor and Andy Bartlett was best man. Little Richard Panella, was ring bearer and Dorothy Sica carried the bride's veil. At noon a delicious dinner was served at 12 Bank street, to members of the immediate families. A reception took place in the evening and later Mr. and Mrs. Bongivengo left for a honeymoon to Canada and Niagara Falls.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Bongivengo will reside at their newly furnished home, 310 Glass street.

Gibson Reunion
Twenty first annual reunion of the Gibson family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Gibson of Emery. Dinner was served on the lawn to forty guests, after which a business meeting was called by the president, G. V. Gibson.

An election of officers resulted in Barkley Gibson being named president; Vance Wilson, vice president; Annabelle Gibson, secretary; Elsie Gibson, treasurer.

The next annual reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Gibson at Emery the third Wednesday in June, 1935.

G. K. W. Club
Mrs. A. W. Scott of Whipple street entertained the G. K. W. club members at her home Wednesday afternoon and early evening. The afternoon hours were spent in quilting; at 6 o'clock a delicious tureen dinner was enjoyed.

Two special guests, Mrs. Lawrence Johnston, mother of the hostess, and Miss Rita Edwards, were present.

The next meeting will be in four weeks at Cascade park in the form of a picnic.

Bridge at Club
This evening the members of the New Castle Field Club will be received at the club by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Patterson, Delaware avenue, who are hosts for the bi-weekly bridge.

At conclusion of play there will be a refreshment period and prizes will be awarded.

TWITTERS

MRS. McKEE HOSTESS TO CLUB ASSOCIATES

Mrs. Harry McKee, Jr., Mrs. George A. Carpenter and Mrs. Henry E. Rappold were aides in serving a dainty and delicious dessert-luncheon Wednesday in the home of Mrs. H. W. McKee, Sr., The Geuard, North Mill street.

The thirty or so members and guests had a delightful afternoon chatting and sewing later and an invitation was extended from Mrs. Charles Greer for a meeting Thursday of next week at her home on North Jefferson street.

POST-NUPTIAL AFFAIR FOR MRS. LLOYD BLEWS
A pretty post-nuptial courtesy was offered Mrs. Lloyd Blews (Erma Ray) Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Sara Pattison at Scotland Lane, guests including members of the W. M. L. H. Club.

At tables arranged on the porch bridge was played with a dainty favor being won by Mrs. Clyde Malloy.

Upon being invited to the dining room the girls were attracted to the dining table, which was beautifully decorated in honor of the bride. A party cake with summer flowers was used as a centerpiece, around which were grouped a bridal party, and each place was marked with lovely corsages, one at the bride's place being especially so.

Answering a knock at the door, the honoree was met by little Jackie Pattison, small brother of the hostess, who presented her with a wagonload of pretty gifts for her new home. Aides in serving a delicious luncheon were Miss Virginia Pattison and Mrs. J. W. Pattison.

Plans were discussed for a Fourth of July outing which the club will hold, the place to be decided upon later.

EPWORTH PICNIC ATTRACTIVE EVENT
V. O. Potter, Mrs. J. F. Renz, Carl Weide and Mrs. D. T. McConahy were plans that were perfect in every detail for the annual picnic of the Epworth Methodist church, which was an event of Wednesday at Cascade Park, with several hundred sitting down to a most bounteous dinner in the grove at 6 o'clock.

The afternoon hours had been given over to programs of sports and swimming, with the winners of the various events presented with prizes. Special guests included District Superintendent and Mrs. C. G. Farr of Grove City and Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Weaver.

When dinner was over a vesper service was held with Dr. J. A. Galbraith, pastor in charge, while Chester P. Reynolds led the group in singing.

The park amusements afforded entertainment for the evening hours.

KITCHEN-BRIDGE FOR MISS RUDOLPH
Another delightful pre-nuptial fest was given for Miss Elvora Rudolph, Croton avenue, a bride-elect of this month, Wednesday in the form of a luncheon bridge and kitchen shower.

Misses Kathryn McCreary, Dorothy Kinney and Mrs. H. E. Emery entertained a group of Miss Rudolph's friends at luncheon in the downtown tea room, with lovely appointments carried out in green and yellow.

When luncheon was concluded the honoree was presented with many packages of all shapes and sizes and when these were opened she found many useful articles for the kitchen of her new home.

Afternoon hours were spent about the bridge tables, with high score awards being made to Consuelo Shorts and Mrs. Harold MacCartney.

Out of town guests were Mrs. H. MacCartney and Mrs. Nate McKim of Mt. Jackson; Mrs. William Seltzer of Besenmer and Miss Shorts and Mildred Garraway of Franklin.

F. O. F. Postponed.
The meeting of the F. O. F. club scheduled for this evening at the home of Mrs. Dean Lamson, Mt. Jackson, has been postponed until the following Thursday evening.

KENSINGTON EVENT IN LUNCHEON FORM

Mrs. Harry Remley, Mrs. R. E. Johnston, Mrs. Louis Garrett and Mrs. Daniel Reebel were associated in entertaining the N. H. B. Kensington event at a lovely 1 o'clock luncheon in the Y. W. C. A.

Among the 25 guests enjoying the affair were Mrs. Ella Shillings of Mercer and Mrs. Paul Weller. Summer flowers were attractive in decorations.

In the afternoon, the ladies played various contests, distinction in these falling to Mrs. C. H. Heaton, Mrs. Leroy Martin and Mrs. Clyde Griffith.

On July 6, the club will participate in a picnic which will be held at the Mt. Jackson home of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Davis. Associate hostesses are Mrs. Harvey Martin, Mrs. Chester Craft and Mrs. Carey Davis.

Entertains Club
Vanilla Waters had a happy time Tuesday evening as guests of Evelyn McCune on South Mulberry street. Games were followed by luncheon and it was decided to meet next Tuesday evening with Geraldine Stinedurf of East Main street.

RED CROSS PARTY LARGELY ATTENDED

With over 200 tables of bridge and 500 in play during the evening, in addition to a large number playing bingo, the benefit card party which was given last evening in the Cathedral proved an enjoyable and successful affair.

The various committees under the direction of Mrs. John S. Crowl, general chairman, had worked hard for the success of the affair, and their efforts were well rewarded.

Honor scores in 500 went to Mrs. J. W. Staudinger, auction bridge, Mrs. Ray Hall, and contract bridge, Mrs. Anna Eagan.

At the close of the period for cards, an interesting musical program was presented, with solos by W. O. ("Red") Williams, who also acted as master of ceremonies; and "Bill" Jones, of Ellwood City; readings by Miss Betty Glover, and a dance number by Miss Nellie Brady.

Most of the guests joined in the play of bingo until a late hour. This latter feature was carried out under the direction of the Legion of Honor, with Commander Ches Sweeney in charge.

There was also fortune telling by a group under the direction of Mrs. Bessie Coates Fitzer.

Section E Breakfast
Amid the beauties of the park and enjoying the fresh morning air the members of Section E of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church sat down to breakfast at Cascade Wednesday morning, with three special guests sharing the pleasure: Mrs. Earl McKnight, Mrs. C. R. Brenner and Mrs. J. Seamon.

After appeasing the hearty appetites, the women enjoyed boating, swimming and informal pastimes for the remainder of the day.

The next meeting will be in the form of a breakfast in two weeks.

G. N. T. Club.
A pleasant time was enjoyed Wednesday by the G. N. T. club members who went to Cascade park for dinner; it being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Wick, one of the club members, she was wished many happy returns of the day.

After partaking of a delicious repast, the afternoon was enjoyed in the park amusements and each other's society.

Plans were made to meet July 12 at the home of Mrs. H. Smith, Beaver street.

500 Club.
Mrs. George Hurn, Galbreath avenue, will be hostess to the 500 club next Tuesday evening.

CLASS '14 ENJOYS TWENTIETH REUNION

School days lived again in memories recalled at the twentieth annual reunion of the high school class of 1914 which was held Wednesday June 20 at "Kirkwood" the summer home of Herbert S. Kirk on King's Chapel road.

There were fifty five of the graduates back, among them being two from a distance, John Register of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Vesta Snyder King, of Salem, O. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Orth, the latter, principal of the present high school who was one of the 1914 class instructors twenty years ago.

Regrets for her inability to attend were read from Miss Mary Riffer, also an instructor of this class in 1914 who is still teaching in the present high school. Edwin Sargent now deceased, was principal at that time.

Communications were read from other former instructors including Miss Rose Stewart who is at the University of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Mary Mossman Beattie of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sturgeon (Lucille Van Gorder.) From former students, letters were read from Mrs. Margaret Fulkerson Carlon and Loyal Carlon of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Essel Druschel Cross.

A delightful program of entertainment was provided for the afternoon which consisted of golf and horseshoes for the "boys" and informal diversions for the "girls." Swimming was enjoyed by the younger generation.

For an elegant supper served at six thirty at several long tables, the class colors of yellow and blue were used. In a prominent place over the center table was displayed the old 1914 banner which had been used at both commencement and class-day exercises in the "Olden days." It is still in a well preserved state.

Of additional interest were a class poem by Miss Katherine Foulke, one of the former popular instructors who is now living in New Wilmington with her sister Mrs. E. B. Russell, and a receipt for $108.00 which was the amount it cost this class to replace a new flag pole on the new high school site, having innocently tried to "bend" same the year they left school. Mrs. Mamie Marlin Cosel has this treasure in her possession.

A further celebration of the class of 1914's twentieth anniversary will be held this evening at the Cathedral when the big alumni reunion of all "old grads" will take place. Arrangements have been made to have a large birthday cake as a table centerpiece and it is possible that this class will have an even larger representative of members at tonight's event.

The very efficient committee to whom much credit is due for yesterday's successful event was composed of Mrs. Mamie Marlin Cosel, John Powers, Herbert Kirk, Mrs. Ruth Dufford Calvin and Mrs. Rachel Pollock Taylor.

The annual Rodgers reunion will take place July 4, at the home of Mrs. Lena Rodgers, Plaingrove.

New Castle relatives and friends of Madame Charles Griffith Ryan who have been following her in her recently successful musical career will be interested to know that she scored another triumph Wednesday evening in New York when she sang the role "Elizabeth" in the Wagnerian opera "Tannhauser."

"Tannhauser" was the Hippodrome's first production of the summer season and the second Wagnerian opera to be added to the repertoire of the company which Madame Ryan is one of the principal singers. The supporting cast included Dreda Aves as Venus, Louis Dorne in the title role and Carl Schiffer as Wolfram.

It is further interesting to note that last fall when Madame Ryan sang this same role in New York before an audience of some five or six thousand people, she was called upon to respond to a half dozen curtain calls. Miss Gertrude Fulkerson of Smithfield street, who is a friend of the talented artist, was in the audience that evening and had the pleasure of hearing the performance.

Madame Ryan was born and raised in New Castle, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Griffith of Canby street. She is a sister of Steve and John Griffith, and Mrs. James Egan of this city. Mrs. William Montverdi (Mary Griffith) and Leo Griffith of Pittsburgh.

GOLDEN WEDDING IS PLANNED FOR WYMAN

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wyman, 939 Maryland avenue, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Monday, July 2, at their home with a family dinner, also a reception for friends and neighbors during the hours of 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p. m.

July 2, 1884, George W. Wyman married Mary Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenwood, the ceremony being performed in the parsonage of the First Methodist church of Beaver Falls.

To this union was born three children, a daughter, who is now Mrs. R. D. Phillips, and two sons, George H. and Frank C., both of this city.

The Wyman have lived in New Castle the past 48 years and Mr. Wyman has been a police officer the past 30 years. In addition to his activities as a police officer Mr. Wyman finds time to be active in lodge work, being treasurer of the Protected Home Circle and the Sons of Veterans, president of the Fire Police; a member of the F. O. E., the M. W. of A. and the New Castle Volunteer department.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman are members of the First Methodist church.

Perry-Bongivengo
In the St. Vitus church Wednesday morning the marriage of Miss Frances Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perry, of 220 South Jefferson street, and Anthony Bongivengo, son of Peter Bongivengo, of 12 Bank street, took place. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, officiated.

Miss Mary Peluso served as maid of honor and Andy Bartlett was best man. Little Richard Panella, was ring bearer and Dorothy Sica carried the bride's veil. At noon a delicious dinner was served at 12 Bank street, to members of the immediate families. A reception took place in the evening and later Mr. and Mrs. Bongivengo left for a honeymoon to Canada and Niagara Falls.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Bongivengo will reside at their newly furnished home, 310 Glass street.

Gibson Reunion
Twenty first annual reunion of the Gibson family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Gibson of Energy. Dinner was served on the lawn to forty guests, after which a business meeting was called by the president, G. V. Gibson.

An election of officers resulted in Barkley Gibson being named president; Vance Wilson, vice president; Annabelle Gibson, secretary; Elsie Gibson, treasurer.

The next annual reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Gibson at Energy, the third Wednesday in June, 1935.

G. K. W. Club.
Mrs. A. W. Scott of Whipple street entertained the G. K. W. club members at her home Wednesday afternoon and early evening. The afternoon hours were spent in quilting; at 6 o'clock a delicious tureen dinner was enjoyed.

Two special guests, Mrs. Lawrence Johnston, mother of the hostess, and Miss Rita Edwards, were present. The next meeting will be in four weeks at Cascade park in the form of a picnic.

Bridge at Club
This evening the members of the New Castle Field Club will be received at the club by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Patterson, Delaware avenue, who are hosts for the bi-weekly bridge.

At conclusion of play there will be a refreshment period and prizes will be awarded.

TWITTERS

ZaSu Pitts, the twittering comedienne, heads the distinguished cast of Paramount's comedy murder-mystery, "Private Scandal," coming Monday to the Penn Theatre. Others featured are Phillips Holmes and Ned Sparks.

MRS. McKEE HOSTESS TO CLUB ASSOCIATES

Mrs. Harry McKee, Jr., Mrs. George A. Carpenter and Mrs. Henry E. Rappold were aides in serving a dainty and delicious desert-luncheon Wednesday in the home of Mrs. H. W. McKee, Sr., The Geurard, North Mill street.

The thirty or so members and guests had a delightful afternoon chatting and sewing later and an invitation was extended from Mrs. Charles Greer to a meeting Thursday of next week at her home on North Jefferson street.

POST-NUPTIAL AFFAIR FOR MRS. LLOYD BLEWS

A pretty post-nuptial courtesy was offered Mrs. Lloyd Blews (Erma Ray) Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Sara Pattison at Scotland Lane, guests including members of the W. M. L. H. Club.

At tables arranged on the porch bridge was played with a dainty favor being won by Mrs. Clyde Malory.

Upon being invited to the dining room the girls were attracted to the dining table, which was beautifully decorated in honor of the bride. A party cake with summer flowers was used as a centerpiece, around which were grouped a bridal party, and each place was marked with lovely corsages, some at the bride's place being especially so.

Answering a knock at the door, the honoree was met by little Jackie Pattison, small brother of the hostess, who presented her with a wagonload of pretty gifts for her new home. Aides in serving a delicious luncheon were Miss Virginia Pattison and Mrs. J. W. Pattison.

Plans were discussed for a Fourth of July outing which the club will hold, the place to be decided upon later.

EPWORTH PICNIC ATTRACTIVE EVENT

V. O. Potter, Mrs. J. F. Renz, Carl Weide and Mrs. D. T. McConahy made plans that were perfect in every detail for the annual picnic of the Epworth Methodist church, which was an event of Wednesday at Cascade Park, with several hundred sitting down to a most bounteous dinner in the grove at 6 o'clock.

The afternoon hours had been given over to a program of sports and swimming, with the winners of the various events presented with prizes. Special guests included District Superintendent and Mrs. C. G. Parr of Grove City and Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Weaver.

When dinner was over a vesper service was held with Dr. J. A. Galbraith, pastor, in charge, while Chester P. Reynolds led the group in singing.

The park amusements afforded entertainment for the evening hours.

KITCHEN-BRIDGE FOR MISS RUDOLPH

Another delightful pre-nuptial fete was given for Miss Elnora Rudolph, Croton avenue, a bride-elect of this month, Wednesday in the form of a luncheon bridge and kitchen shower.

Misses Kathryn McCreary, Dorothy Kinney and Mrs. H. E. Emery entertained a group of Miss Rudolph's friends at luncheon in a downtown tea room, with lovely appointments carried out in green and yellow.

When luncheon was concluded the honoree was presented with many packages of all shapes and sizes and when these were opened she found many useful articles for the kitchen of her new home.

Afternoon hours were spent about the bridge tables, with high score awards being made to Consuelo Shorts and Mrs. Harold MacCartney.

Out of town guests were Mrs. H. MacCartney and Mrs. Nate McKim of Mt. Jackson; Mrs. William Selzer of Bessemer and Miss Shorts and Mildred Garraway of Franklin.

THE LAW GETS MANY

DESPERATE or excitement-loving gangsters are not given to viewing calmly the problems of existence.If they were, there might be fewer kidnappings. The men who take to this form of crime fear prison and the electric chair as much as the average man. Most of them are cowards. But in some way they get the idea that kidnapping is an easy thing; that it pays well and that the chances of being killed or sent to prison are slim.But they don't weigh the possibilities or look at the statistics. If they did, they might change their minds.The participants in 11 kidnappings of more or less recent dates have been disposed of thus:One sentenced to die, and 12 to life imprisonment; four, 99 years in prison; one, 20 years; three, 15 years; one 10 years;
one, eight years; four, five years.

Two have been lynched and one committed suicide.

This is not a bad record.

There are, of course, kidnapers who still are at large and living on ransom money or the proceeds from other forms of crime. But they have no assurance that their so-called liberty will be long enjoyed.

EDUCATION FOR THE DUMB

What are the obligations of the student to the college and of the college to the student has never been decided and never shall be, although a New Yorker recently was refused damages which he claimed because a university had not prepared him for medical school after two years' study. The school argued that the student was no intellectual sponge and the student contended that a good university would have made him one.No school can make a good student out of a poor one without some co-operation from the subject, and yet when it accepts a tuition fee it contracts to furnish an education. So in one sense the student who graduates a moron is warranted in placing responsibility for his intellectual failure on the institution.Institutions of higher learning are often criticized for neglecting the backward student and nursing the "bright scholar." They have been compared to a hospital which accepted only those cases in which it could guarantee a cure. The institution's responsibility toward the poor student should be greater since its only reason for existence is to educate. The "A" student can educate himself.

CONGRESS OFF—POLITICS ON!

Although this is an "off year" in politics, so-called because there is no national campaign for president and vice president, there will be plenty of interest in contests for state offices and for membership in both houses of congress. All members of the house and one-third of the senate will be chosen in elections this year.Politicians of every sort will make their appeal to the "dear people" for support on one pretext or another. And, as always, the demagogues will be out in full force.Webster defines a demagogue as "one who plays an insincere role in public life for the sake of gaining influence or office; a poser in politics, especially one who panders to popular prejudice or seeks to inflame reasonless passions in the advancement of his personal interests."It is a reflection upon the intelligence and judgment of a great percentage of voters that they are apparently unable to size up the demagogue for what he is. They listen to ravings and swallow insincere promises with avidity. His wildest statements and most irresponsible representations are often accepted at face value—and he gets many votes from the less intelligent class of citizens.

AMERICANS AT PLAY

Whatever may be the cause, it is evident that Americans are making good use of their increased leisure.Proof of this is to be found in the new year book of the National Recreation association covering 1933. Healthful outdoors is drawing an increasingly large number.The total number of outdoor playgrounds at the end of last year was 7,434, which represented a gain of 444. The addition to baseball diamond totaled nearly 800, while 58 new bathing beaches were placed in commission.Municipal golf and swimming, both of which showed a decline, were almost the only forms of recreation that registered a decrease in patronage. More than 500 new recreation centers were opened.All of these developments are important. They show that Americans are not losing their play instinct and that, in gratifying this, they are indulging in the more healthful forms of recreation.It's a good sign and means a healthier and stronger and more clear-eyed nation.We haven't heard of any European nation refusing to pay its municipals makers.Fish are color blind, but anyway the real purpose of brightly-colored flies is to catch fishermen.Blessed are the poor nations. If they have nothing worth stealing, they needn't support a great navy.We give up trying to define morality when the possession of ill-got is legal and possession of gold is wicked.After an experience with picnics, ants and chiggers one is led to wonder why they call it the good old summer time.A bar is to be installed on the eighty-sixth floor of the Empire State building. It may give the imbibers of too much, time to sober up before reaching the street.South Carolina won national notice and dry acclaim by voting against repeal of the eighteenth amendment. It develops now that 2-00 federal licenses have been issued in the state for the sale of liquor.Apparently the licensees think the voters approved prohibition with reservations.Six more men prominent in Soviet industry have been sentenced to death in the government's efforts to eradicate graft. If graft exists in a country where death is the penalty, is there any wonder that it flourishes in a country such as the United States where honors come as the reward of grafters?

A BOOK IN YOUR HANDS

I HOLD a book in my hands.
I have read the title, I have noticed the name of the author. I do not know him, never saw his name before. . . . All I know is that he has written a book, gone through all that struggle of setting many words on paper, suffered the pangs, lived the pangs, of getting it published. And here, at last, it is in my hands. As fast as I am concerned, he wrote it only for me, just for me. . . . It is mine. I am the judge. I am the material upon which he works. But
I, too, am the final critic and test.
Me. . . . (You, too, if you hold his book in your hands.)But what do I ask of this book?
If he has written to amuse me,
I demand that it do so. If he has written a "mystery," it must mystify
me. If he has written a tale of travel and far countries, he must take me far away from here. . . .
If this is all he has intended to write, I shall not ask too much of this book.But if he has tried to set down the lives of human beings, of such people as I have known, as I have seen and touched, if he has tried to create men and women and their encounter with irony and fate and joy
and grief and ecstasy and torment
on this moving globe, then I shall ask that he tell me the truth!
He must not lull me. He must not shield me from the truth he has seen. He must respect me, if he would have me respect him. . . .
He must believe that I am capable of receiving the truth that he has found, that I, too, may stare into the darkness or face the blinding light of his discovered wisdom. He must write for me as though I were his equal. He must be fair, he must be honest.And must try to be worthy. I will not ask that his people be good, or strong, always brave and honest and decent. I shall insist only that they shall be real and walk the streets of life as I do, ask only that I may reach out and touch them as though we stood side by side. . . . That's all. I ask no more.And here's this book that I hold in my hands. This stranger. This owner, this genial fellow, this faker, this dreamer, this doer, this villain,
this hero, this unknown being.
I turn to the first page and begin
my adventure.

CHOOSE YOUR FRIENDS FOR THEMSELVES ALONE

How much of real friendship is there in your makeup?You select as your friends those whom you think will benefit you most.You choose those in the positions that you think will assist you.You want your friendship list to raise your social standing.Not often do you choose a friend occupying a humble position.You excuse yourself on the plea that you want friends of at least equal standing.But deep down in your heart there is a feeling that you want those who,
in some way, can give you a boost.Perhaps you know many persons whom you like and would enjoy as companions, if they were in a position to add to your prestige.But they are not—so your actions indicate that you are not anxious to enjoy their society or friendship.You will never have the pleasure of true friendships until you reach the point where those you accept on intimate terms are persons you like because of what they represent as individuals.Not genuine in your acceptance of friendship and you will gain real comfort from your friends.

THE SUREST SIGN

Fish are biting! From a train
Walking down a dusty lane
I beheld a bright-eyed lad, Bare of foot and knicker clad,
Heading for his favorite hole
With a can of bait and pole.Orchards blossom and gay Lined the railroad's right of way.
As we sped on it seemed Lazily I sat and dreamed, Lost to what was going on Till that boy I looked upon!Round the pole was wrapped a line,
Just as once I threaded mine.
Very plainly I beheld
A slender kindly blacksmith weld,
And that happiest of freight
For a boy—a can of bait!Gone was I and lost was he Swiftly to the sight of me,
But I pass the news along Unto all the grown-up throng.
Fish are biting! Fishing's time!
From a boy I've had the sign!

The World At A Glance

Did Congress Sidestep?
Midwest Workers Believe So Haphazard Welfare Worries

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, June 20.—Among the masses of workers in the industrial midwest, this past session of congress is not hailed with universal approval.Fundamentals were not reached, workers believe. There has hurrab-hoorab been blanket appropriations for huge spending, but there was a putting off of actual downright settlement.That is the sentiment expressed by multitudes of men.One man is willing to wager that congress will have to be called into special session so unfinished did it leave social legislation.There is no question that businessmen and southern Democrats fear Roosevelt social legislation. A visit, however, to industrial regions, causes more fear because there is none—at least, none adequate.A crisis will be reached the latter part of the summer when industrial activity will be at its ebb.

WELFARE

This writer does not desire to give a picture of darkness. He hopes he is a commentator, who seeks out the truth, which is the light and the only sound foundation for order and progress.Human welfare remains a haphazard problem in American life.
That is breeding eventual revolution.Curt sayings of some welfare directors are forever coming to the attention of this writer."So," said one welfare director in Ohio, "that family was paying rent out of welfare funds? We'll cut the allowance."And out goes the family into the street.How much of a problem does that solve?

SPY SYSTEMS

One of the most worthy books of the year is "Escape From the Soviet ets." It tells of the horrible inquisition of OGPU, Soviet secret police.Soon, however, there may be equally "incredible" books on American spy systems.New York also is excited over an alleged police spy system. (Progressive Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia doesn't believe it but the New York Post insists.)The Post says:
"Police Commissioner John F.
O'Ryan has literally transformed the bureau of criminal alien investigation into a secret police."This police spy system, the Post has based upon indisputable evidence. It has harassed business men who have written mild letters to Commissioner O'Ryan protesting police brutality. Detectives have not only arrested, but tortured labor leaders who were merely exercising their constitutional rights of peaceful picketing."Scores of complaints of espionage —and worse—have been made against the bureau at the office of the American Civil Liberties union.
Commissioner O'Ryan's answer to these complaints is that a 'Red Menace' exists in New York and that he must take desperate measures to break it up."Whether or not General O'Ryan is right about a "Red Menace," the fact is clear that no criminal alien has been arrested and convicted by the secret police."Perhaps the old tradition that Americans resent army officers, or ex-army officers, in administrative civil posts still holds good.

HUEY, FARMERS' FRIEND

There are many stories to be told of the closing hours of congress, but the most important concerns Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana.The Kingfish filibustered till he put over a farm bankruptcy bill which will establish a virtual six-year moratorium on indebtedness and mortgages of insolvent farmers.That probably will insure two million more members for Huey's
"Share Our Wealth" organization.The strength of that organization is likely to give even a Roosevelt pause by next November.

A BOOK IN YOUR HANDS

I HOLD a book in my hands.

I have read the title, I have noticed the name of the author. I do not know him, never saw his name

before. . . . All I know is that he has written a book, gone through all

that struggle of setting many words

on paper, suffered the pangs, lived the joys of getting it published. And here, at last, it is in my hands. As far as I am concerned, he wrote it only for me, just for me. . . . It is mine. I am the judge. I am the material upon which he works. But

I, too, am the final critic and test.

. . . Me. . . . (You, too, if you hold his book in your hands.)

But what do I ask of this book?

If he has written it to amuse me,

I demand that it do so. If he has written a "mystery," it must mystify

me. If he has written a tale of

travel and far countries, he must

take me far away from here. . . .

If this is all he has intended to write, I shall not ask too much of this book.

But if he has tried to set down

the lives of human beings, of such

people as I have known, as I have seen and touched, if he has tried to create men and women and their encounter with irony and fate and joy

and grief and ecstasy and torment

on this moving globe, then I shall ask that he tell me the truth! He must not baby me. He must not shield me from the truth he has seen. He must respect me, if he would have me respect him. . . .

He must believe that I am capable

of receiving the truth that he has found, that I, too, may stare into

the darkness or face the blinding

light of his discovered wisdom. He must write for me as though I were

his equal. He must be fair, he must be honest.

And must try to be worthy. I will not ask that his people be good, or

strong, always brave and honest and

decent. I shall insist only that they

shall be real and walk the streets of life as I do, ask only that I may

reach out and touch them as though

we stood side by side. . . . That's

all. I ask no more.

And here's this book that I hold

in my hands. This stranger. This clown, this genial fellow, this faker,

this dreamer, this doer, this villain,

this hero, this unknown being. . . .

I turn to the first page and begin

my adventure.

Twelve!

However, with the threat of inflation, this might be a good time to invest in luxuries with payments strung out over a year. It would probably be easier to settle with the money we'd give up for money.

THE LAW GETS MANY

DESPERATE or excitement-loving gangsters are not given to viewing calmly the problems of existence.

If they were, there might be fewer kidnappings. The men who take to this form of crime fear prison and the electric chair as much as the average man. Most of them are cowards. But in some way they get the idea that kidnapping is an easy thing; that it pays well and that the chances of being killed, or sent to prison are slim.

But they don't weigh the possibilities or look at the statistics. If they did, they might change their minds.

The participants in 11 kidnappings of more or less recent dates have been disposed of thus:

One sentenced to die, and 12 to life imprisonment; four, 99 years in prison; one, 20 years; three, 15 years; one 10 years; one, eight years; four, five years.

Two have been lynched and one committed suicide.

This is not a bad record.

There are, of course, kidnapers who still are at large and living on ransom money or the proceeds from other forms of crime. But they have no assurance that their so-called liberty will be long enjoyed.

EDUCATION FOR THE DUMB

What are the obligations of the student to the college and of the college to the student has never been decided and never shall be, although a New Yorker recently was refused damages which he claimed because a university had not prepared him for medical school after two years' study. The school argued that the student was no intellectual sponge and the student contended that a good university would have made him one.

No school can make a good student out of a poor one without some co-operation from the subject, and yet when it accepts a tuition fee it contracts to furnish an education. So in one sense the student who graduates a moron is warranted in placing responsibility for his intellectual failure on the institution.

Institutions of higher learning are often criticized for neglecting the backward student and nursing the "bright scholar." They have been compared to a hospital which accepted only those cases in which it could guarantee a cure. The institution's responsibility toward the poor student should be greater since its only reason for existence is to educate. The "A" student can educate himself.

CONGRESS OFF—POLITICS ON!

Although this is an "off year" in politics, so-called because there is no national campaign for president and vice president, there will be plenty of interest in contests for state offices and for membership in both houses of congress. All members of the house and one-third of the senate will be chosen in elections this year.

Politicians of every sort will make their appeal to the "dear people" for support on one pretext or another. And, as always, the demagogues will be out in full force.

Webster defines a demagogue as "one who plays an insincere role in public life for the sake of gaining influence or office; a poser in politics, especially one who panders to popular prejudice or seeks to inflame unreasonable passions in the advancement of his personal interests."

It is a reflection upon the intelligence and judgment of a great percentage of voters that they are apparently unable to size up the demagogue for what he is. They listen to ravings and swallow insincere promises with avidity. His wildest statements and most irresponsible representations are often accepted at face value—and he gets many votes from the less intelligent class of citizens.

AMERICANS AT PLAY

Whatever may be the cause, it is evident that Americans are making good use of their increased leisure.

Proof of this is to be found in the new year book of the National Recreation association covering 1933. Healthful outdoors is drawing an increasingly large number.

The total number of outdoor playgrounds at the end of last year was 7,434, which represented a gain of 444. The addition to baseball diamonds totaled nearly 800, while 58 new bathing beaches were placed in commission.

Municipal golf and swimming, both of which showed a decline, were almost the only forms of recreation that registered a decrease in patronage. More than 500 new recreation centers were opened.

All of these developments are important. They show that Americans are not losing their play instinct and that, in gratifying this, they are indulging in the more healthful forms of recreation.

It's a good sign and means a healthier and stronger and more clear-eyed nation.

We haven't heard of any European nation refusing to pay its munitions makers.

Fish are color blind, but anyway the real purpose of brightly-colored flies is to catch fishermen.

Blessed are the poor nations. If they have nothing worth stealing, they needn't support a great navy.

We give up trying to define morality when the possession of liquor is legal and possession of gold is wicked.

After an experience with picnics, ants and chiggers one is led to wonder why they call it the good old summer time.

A bar is to be installed on the eighty-sixth floor of the Empire State building. It may give the imbibers of too much, time to sober up before reaching the street.

South Carolina won national notice and dry acclaim by voting against repeal of the eighteenth amendment. It develops now that 2,000 federal licenses have been issued in the state for the sale of liquor. Apparently the licensees think the voters approved prohibition with reservations.

Six more men prominent in Soviet industry have been sentenced to death in the government's efforts to eradicate graft. If graft exists in a country where death is the penalty, is there any wonder that it flourishes in a country such as the United States where honors sometimes are the reward of grafters?

CHOOSE YOUR FRIENDS FOR THEMSELVES ALONE

How much of real friendship is there in your makeup? You select as your friends those whom you think will benefit you most. You choose those in the positions that you think will assist you. You want your friendship list to include your social standing. Not often do you choose a friend occupying a humble position. You excuse yourself on the plea that you want friends of at least equal standing. But deep down in your heart there is a feeling that you want those who, in some way, can give you a boost. Perhaps you know many persons whom you like and would enjoy as companions if they were in a position to add to your prestige. But they are not—so your actions indicate that you are not anxious to enjoy their society or friendship. You will never have the pleasure of true friendships until you reach the point where those you accept on intimate terms are persons you like because of what they represent as individuals.

Be more genuine in your acceptance of friendship and you will gain real comfort from your friends.

THE SUREST SIGN

Fish are biting! From a train walking down a dusty lane I beheld a bright-eyed lad, Bare of foot and knicker-kid, Heading for his favorite hole With a can of bait and pole.

Orchards blossom and gay Lined the railroad's right of way. As we speeded on it seemed Lazily I sat and dreamed, Lost to what was going on 'Till that boy I looked upon!

Round the pole was wrapped a line, Just as I threaded mine. Very plainly I beheld A sinner kindly blacksmiths weld, And that happiest of freight For a boy—a can of bait!

Gone was I and lost was he Swiftly to the sight of me. But I pass the news along, Unto all the grown-up throng. Fish are biting! Fishing's fine! From a boy I've had the sign! (Copyright, 1934, Edgar A. Guest.)

Bible Thought For Today

Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded.—Proverbs 1:24.

Heard in a local restaurant: "Give me another sandwich, please." "Anything else?" "Yes, a paperweight. The last one blew away."

Our daily fairy tale: "I failed in business," he said "because I got my education at a university, instead of through a correspondence school."

Did Congress Sidestep?
Midwest Workers Believe So
Haphazard Welfare WorriesBy LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, June 20.—Among the masses of workers in the industrial midwest, this past session of congress is not hailed with universal approval.

Fundamentals were not reached. There was hurrah, there were blanket appropriations for huge spending, but there was a putting off of actual downright settlement.

That is the sentiment expressed by multitudes of men. One man is willing to wager that congress will have to be called into special session, so unfinished did it leave social legislation.

There is no question that businessmen and southern Democrats fear Roosevelt social legislation. A visit, however, to industrial regions, causes more fear because there is none—at least, none adequate. A crisis will be reached the latter part of the summer, when industrial activity will be at its ebb.

WELFARE This writer does not desire to give a picture of darkness. He hopes he is a commentator, who seeks out the truth, which is the light and the only sound foundation for order and progress.

Hazardous welfare remains a haphazard problem in American life. That is breeding eventual revolution.

Curt sayings of some welfare directors are forever coming to the attention of this writer. So said one welfare director in Ohio, "that family whose paying rent out of welfare funds? We'll cut the allowance."

And out goes the family into the street. How much of a problem does that solve?

SPY SYSTEMS One of the most worthy books of the year is "Escape From the Soviets." It tells of the horrible inquisition of OGPU, Soviet secret police. Soon, however, there may be equally "incredible" books on American spy systems.

New York also is excited over an alleged police spy system. (Progressive Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia doesn't believe it but the New York Post insists.)

The Post says: "Police Commissioner John F. O'Ryan has literally transformed the bureau of criminal alien investigation into a secret police."

"This police spy system, the Post has learned upon indisputable evidence, has harassed business men who have written mild letters to Commissioner O'Ryan protesting police brutality. Detectives have not only arrested, but tortured labor leaders who were merely exercising their constitutional rights of peaceful picketing."

"Scores of complaints of espionage—and worse—have been made against the bureau at the offices of the American Civil Liberties union. Commissioner O'Ryan's answer to these complaints is that a 'Red Menace' exists in New York and that he must take desperate measures to break it up."

"Whether or not General O'Ryan is right about a 'Red Menace,' the fact is clear that no criminal alien has been arrested and convicted by the secret police."

Perhaps the old tradition that Americans resent army officers, or ex-army officers, in administrative civil posts still holds good.

HUEY, FARMERS' FRIEND There are many stories to be told of the closing hours of congress, but the most important concerns Senator Huey Long, of Louisiana.

The Kingfish filibustered till he put over a farm bankruptcy bill which will establish a virtual six-year moratorium on indebtedness and mortgages of insolvent farmers.

That probably will insure two million more members for Huey's "Share Our Wealth" organization.

The strength of that organization is likely to give even a Roosevelt pause by next November.

In the meantime, insurance companies are rechecking their farm mortgage situation. Farmers, however, contrary to general belief, are better mortgage risk than city real estate owners and speculators.

THURSDAY, JUNE 21

Great Days, June 21, 1827—27-year-old Francois de Montmorency, Seigneur de Bouville, Comte de Saxe, celebrated French soldier, hero of the battles of St. Jean d'Angely and Montauban, won his 22nd duel and lost his head.

The Comte guessed that his honors and position would enable him to flout the newly decreed anti-duelling law of King Louis XIII. He guessed wrong. Louis made an example of him, had the Comte and his second beheaded.

Duelling was unfashionable in France after that.

June 21, 1770—Louis XVI of France, whose reign ended in a mighty tragedy, began his public career with one, 1500 persons were trampled to death at the wedding reception given for 15-year-old Louis and his 15-year-old bride Marie Antoinette. A hundred times that many persons were killed as Louis' reign ended in the French Revolution.

History repeats. The reign of Nicholas II, ended by another earth-shaking revolution, began with a similar tragedy. 5,000 persons were trampled to death celebrating his coronation at Moscow.

June 21, 1788—New Hampshire ratified the Constitution, became the 9th state. Nickname: Granite State. Flower: Purple Lilac.

June 21, 1809—A poor watchmaker's apprentice who had dreamed of being a king made his dream come true.

Jorgen Jorgenson, 30, who left his home in Copenhagen to seek adventure in the North, seized control of the government of Iceland and made himself king. He ruled until August, when British warship captured him and took him to England.

June 21, 1809—Daniel Lambert, who is supposed to have been the heaviest man who ever lived, died in Stamford, England, at the age of 40. He weighed 52 stone 11 pounds—750 pounds.

June 21, 1934—One hundred years ago today, the first patent was issued Cyrus McCormick for his reaper. He was the first reaper to be widely adopted, but his was not the first reaper. The Rev. Patrick Bell of Carmyle, in Scotland, anticipated him by five years. Bell had first started working on the idea when he worked on his father's farm in his youth, and the principle he adopted, that of a series of scissors fastened on the "knifeboard," was followed for a long time.

Notable Nativities—Jacques Offenbach, b. 1819, celebrated composer. Baltes of Hoffman, etc. Daniel Carter Beard, b. 1859, father of the Boy Scouts of America. Sir Josiah Stamp, b. 1880, famous British economist. . . . M. O. Terry, b. 1848, military surgeon and medical discoverer. He was first to

Hope To Enlarge RWD IN Fall

Round And Leathers Return From Conference At Harrisburg

Hopeful that September 1 will see an enlarged RWD program for the state and for Lawrence County. Works Director L. B. Round and Assistant Director Carl L. Leathers returned from Harrisburg today. They attended the meeting of the Relief Board and the Works Division directors in Harrisburg on Wednesday.

At the present time the RWD is running with a skeleton organization. In Lawrence County there are but 540 men at work on such projects as Cascade Park, Cunningham Park, Gunton Park, Croton Wall, Croton fence and others. Mr. Round hopes that September will see sufficient funds appropriated to permit the employment of a large group of men and women in this county.

BLOWING ROCK, N. C.—Eight leading gasolines, all famous brands, fight to see which can take this Ford and load up hill the farthest. Gulf wins!

TOUGH GOING—Chimney Rock, N. C., 1933 Oldsmobile loaned and driven by Jack Weaver tests the power of 9 gasolines. Load? Two husky North Carolina mules.

LET'S GET AT THE FACTS ABOUT GASOLINE!

Some people believe that all gasolines have equal power. Others are convinced they get more power from their favorite brand. Here, for the first time, are accurate findings on 33 leading gasolines, based on power tests on famous hills, in many makes of cars...

To prove to doubters the difference in power of various gasolines, we traveled to 12 famous American hills—hills known as "tough grades" for any gasoline.

On each of these hills, non-partisan officials tested the well-known gasolines that could be bought locally, including Gulf—all results were certified by a Notary Public. All the gasolines, except a few "third grades" sold for about the same price as the new Gulf.

Object of the test? To rate the power of various gasolines by seeing which could pull a car and heavy load farthest up hill in "high" before the motor stalled. Read the results. Then decide which gas you want in your tank!

"WHAT'S THE BIG IDEA?"—Two Williamstown, Mass. heifers, pulled by a Plymouth, wonder what it's all about in the test of 11 gasolines on famous Taconic Trail up Petersburg, Mt.

The NEW GULF wins more power tests than 32 other gasolines combined!

HOW 33 GASOLINES RANKED (IN ALL TESTS TO DATE)

Receipts of the county treasurer's office Tuesday amounted to $2,874.41. This was distributed as follows: County $1,648.88, state $200.04 and poor $824.79. Disbursements from the general fund amounted to $606.10 and from the poor fund $657.07.

Ben D. Hostetter and others have filed an action in ejectment against the Consumers Sand & Gravel company, assignee of the J. K. Myers Sand & Gravel company, now in possession of a receiver. The action is to gain possession of property in Wilmington township.

The Citizens Lumber company has issued a precept for scire facias sur mechanie's lien against Leon Tarsick, the action growing out of an account which it is claimed is due the Citizens Lumber company.

The Erie Limestone company has issued an ejectment against George and Tillie Churchfield to secure possession of a tract of land in Shenandoah township. The land is located on the Hog Hollow and West Pittsburgh road and consists of two and one-half acres.

Janitors Clifford James and E. C. McCracken have succeeded in getting a fairly good catch of grass started on the court house lawn, despite the dry weather. Liberal use of the hose has helped. Part of the lawn north of the court house was almost bare when they sowed the grass seed. Their main trouble now is in keeping people off the grass. James is experimenting on an electric dog, and if his invention is successful the problem will be solved.

Artists have finished the work of decorating the county automobiles operated by the sheriff and county commissioners. Big gilt letters on the sheriff's car read "Lawrence County Sheriff" and on the other car "Lawrence County Commissioners". It wasn't vanity that caused the officials to have their big new cars labeled that way. Oh, no. It was only a desire to show that the cars are being used for strictly county purposes.

Motion for a new trial has been made in the case of George R. Andrews, who was convicted of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Claims Habib's Story To Policemen Wrong

Tony Ritchie of the Canyon street district today visited The News and said that the allegation of Peter Habib that "I drove his car which was in an accident at Highland and Hillcrest avenues Tuesday midnight, is absolutely false."

Ritchie said he had not been with Habib. He visited the police station yesterday afternoon and proved to their satisfaction, he reports, he had nothing to do with the accident. Further he said that he does not know why Habib named him as the driver. There is no relation between the parties.

Hope To Enlarge RWD IN Fall

Round And Leathers Return From Conference At Harrisburg

Hopeful that September 1 will see an enlarged RWD program for the state and for Lawrence County, Works Director L. B. Round and Assistant Director Carl L. Leathers returned from Harrisburg today. They attended the meeting of the Relief Board and the Works Division directors in Harrisburg on Wednesday.

At the present time the RWD is running with a skeleton organization. In Lawrence County there are but 540 men at work on such projects as Cascade Park, Cunningham Park, Gunton Park, Croton Wall, Croton fence and others. Mr. Round hopes that September will see sufficient funds appropriated to permit the employment of a large group of men and women in this county.

GARDNER

BLOWING ROCK, N. C.—Eight leading gasolines, all famous brands, fight to see which can take this Ford and load up hill the farthest. Gulf wins!

TOUGH GOING—Chimney Rock, N. C., 1933 Oldsmobile loaned and driven by Jack Weaver tests the power of 9 gasolines. Load? Two husky North Carolina mules.

Some people believe that all gasolines have equal power. Others are convinced they get more power from their favorite brand. Here, for the first time, are accurate findings on 33 leading gasolines, based on power tests on famous hills, in many makes of cars...

To prove to doubters the difference in power of various gasolines, we traveled to 12 famous American hills—hills known as "tough grades" for any gasoline.

Receipts of the county treasurer's office Tuesday amounted to $2,674.41. This was distributed as follows: County $1,649.88, state $200.04 and poor $824.79. Disbursements from the general fund amounted to $606.10 and from the poor fund $657.07.

Ben D. Hostetler and others have filed an action in ejectment against the Consumers Sand & Gravel company, assignee of the J. K. Myers Sand & Gravel company, now in possession of a receiver. The action is to gain possession of property in Wilmington township.

The Citizens Lumber company has issued a precept for scire facias for mechanic's lien against Leon Tarasick, the action growing out of an account which it is claimed is due the Citizens Lumber company.

The Erie Limestone company has issued an ejectment against George and Tillie Churchfield to secure possession of a tract of land in Shenango township. The land is located on the Hog Hollow and West Pittsburgh road and consists of two and one-half acres.

Janitors Clifford James and E. C. McCracken have succeeded in getting a fairly good catch of grass started on the court house lawn, despite the dry weather. Liberal use of the hose has helped. Part of the lawn north of the court house was almost bare when they sowed the grass seed. Their main trouble now is in keeping people off the grass.

James is experimenting on an electric dog and if his invention is successful the problem will be solved.

Artists have finished the work of decorating the county automobiles operated by the sheriff and county commissioners. Big gilt letters on the sheriff's car read "Lawrence County Sheriff", and on the other car "Lawrence County Commissioner". It wasn't vanity that caused the officials to have their big new cars labeled that way. Oh, no. It was only a desire to show that the cars are being used for strictly county purposes.

Motion for a new trial has been made in the case of George R. Andrews, who was convicted of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

NOON LUNCHEON ON LAWN AT CLINES

One of the loveliest of the early summer lawn parties was that at the home of Mrs. R. S. Cline, Hillcrest avenue, Wednesday, when, at luncheon, a most delicious casserole was served at long tables arranged under a canopy on the lawn. Bunting and red, white and blue appointments carried out a patriotic note in decoration. Places were arranged for 27 members of the Baird Missionary Society of Highland church.

During the afternoon Mrs. T. J. Morate gave a most interesting talk on her trip to the Frenchburg Mission and Mrs. W. D. Jones, with a map, described the various mission stations.

Arrangements were made for a noon picnic dinner in July at the cottage of Lee Marvin at Neshannock Falls for the members and their children.

Mrs. Lee R. Fyle and Mrs. C. C. Withers were associate hostesses with Mrs. Cline.

Cherby Tranquillo

This morning in St. Vitus church a pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita when he joined together in wedlock Miss Clara Cherby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cherby, of 507 East Division street and before Tranquillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernestine Tranquillo, of Pittsburgh.

Miss Evelyn Cozza was maid of honor and Frank Cherby, the bride's brother, served as best man. The bridesmaid included: Misses Elsie Benditto, Emily Cozza, Rosetta Cherby, Dorothy Scarazzo, Miss Benditto and Miss Cozza, are from Chicago, Ill. The ushers were Victor Hillcrest, Joseph Cherby, Frank Cozza, and Ernest Gillett. Little Richard Scarazzo was ring bearer and Vera Scarazzo was veil carrier.

Dinner was served to about 50 persons in the bride's home, at noon. Tonight a reception will take place. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Tranquillo will leave for a honeymoon to Chicago. Upon returning they will reside at 507 East Division street.

Change Residences
Mrs. J. Etta Matheis and daughter Miss Hannah Walker have changed their residence from Brooklyn avenue to Park avenue.

Next week Mrs. Matheis will leave for Chautauqua, N. Y., where she will spend the summer months and on June 30, Miss Walker expects to go to Washington, D. C. to attend the N. E. A. convention and visit among friends.

F. O. F. Postponement
Mrs. Dean Lamson of Mt. Jackson, will entertain the F. O. F. club Thursday, June 28, the meeting for this evening being postponed.

FLAHERTY FAMILY HONORED IN PHOENIX

William Gustafson of the Pulaaski road, who is employed at The News, is in receipt of a letter from Dr. J. V. Flaherty, former New Castle resident, showing pictures of his fine new home at 21 E. Varnum avenue, Phoenix, Ariz., and a clipping which tells of a surprise house warming tendered by members of the Comrade Circle and the Seth Parker Circle of the Garfield Methodist church of Phoenix.

Dr. and Mrs. Flaherty left New Castle for Phoenix several years ago, where they have since been making their home. Dr. Flaherty states that Ashley Hill, who has been in Phoenix for his health, is improving nicely. He states that the great number of former residents of New Castle there makes them feel quite at home.

Beck-Davis Wedding
At a quiet wedding Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Helen Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Beck of New Bedford, became the bride of Harold Davis, son of Mrs. Edith Davis, also of New Bedford.

The ceremony took place at the home of the groom's parents' sister, Mrs. Barton Gannon of West Middlesex. Justice of the Peace Andy Thompson officiating with the single ring ceremony. Miss Ellen McClenahan served as bridesmaid and Wylie Wallace, best man.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe with matching accessories and her shoulder bouquet was of tea roses, sweet peas and baby's breath. The bridesmaid wore pink organza with accessories to harmonize and a shoulder corsage of tea roses and sweet peas.

After the wedding, the bridal party, numbering eight, was entertained at a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Meeker at Youngstown. The table was beautifully arranged with a three tiered cake as a centerpiece and lighted tapers on either end. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a short motor trip and when they return they will take up their residence in New Bedford.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Scott of New Wilmington.

To Study In Chicago
Miss Dorothy Fisher, Moody avenue, outstanding young pianist, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Frankhauser, Crawford Terrace, will leave Friday morning for Chicago to commence a six weeks course at the Chicago Musical college under the personal instruction of Rudolph Ganz, eminent pianist and composer.

Miss Fisher recently placed high in a Kansas competition of the most renowned high school pianists of America.

He expects to be at the morning service Sunday at the First Congregational church, where many former Swansea people attend. He is an uncle of Mrs. Sol Davies, Garfield avenue.

Patterson-Dicks Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Austin S. Patterson, Graceland avenue, announced the marriage of their daughter Norma to Lester Dicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dicks, Karlsburg road.

The ceremony was performed on Wednesday, June 20, at Wellsburg, W. Va., with the Rev. Edward A. Krapp, of the First Presbyterian church of that city officiating. The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. George Floyd of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Dicks are graduates of the East Brook High school class of '33. For the present they will reside with the groom's parents.

Brest Reunion
The annual Brest reunion was held Wednesday at Buhl Park, Sharon, with 125 relatives enjoying a day together and a delicious dinner at noon.

A program of business and sports featured the afternoon, with Mrs. O. T. Griffin in charge of games. The place set for the 1935 reunion was Riverview Park, Greenville.

Officers named were Mrs. H. T. Brest, president; Merton Ryhal of Sharon, vice president and Mrs. J. H. Wigton, New Castle, secretary-treasurer.

Party For Graduate
Miss Mary Maric, Hazen street, entertained at a prettily appointed bridge party Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Kay Young, a graduate of Grove City college.

When cards were concluded Mrs. William Woods was presented with a high score prize and the honored guest with a lovely gift.

Refreshments were served at the small tables.

O. A. O. Club
Members of the O. A. O. Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Bender, Maple street, with bridge as the evening's diversion.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Lew Nelson and Mrs. Ralph Pearce, who was a special guest.

Refreshments of a cooling nature were served and plans were made to meet July 5 with Mrs. Frank Hamilton, West Clayton street.

Handkerchief Shower
Featuring the 1 o'clock luncheon which was a lovely event of Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George F. Moser at Walmo, was a beautiful handkerchief shower tendered the hostess.

Seventeen lovely handkerchiefs in the form of a rose shoulder corsage conveyed as many good wishes from members of the Tuesday Kensington.

Armstrong Descendants
All the descendants of David Armstrong will hold a reunion at the home of Robert Armstrong, Plaingrove, Saturday, June 23.

Signs will be at Slippery Rock and Plaingrove roads and at the entrance to the Armstrong home. A host dinner will be served at 12:30 P. M.

Brisco Club
Members of the Brisco club were delightfully entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Scarazzo on Laurel boulevard on Wednesday evening. Cards proved the popular pastime of the evening. Appetizing refreshments were served at an appropriate time by the hostess.

NOON LUNCHEON ON LAWN AT CLINES
FLAHERTY FAMILY HONORED IN PHOENIX

One of the loveliest of the early summer lawn parties was that at the home of Mrs. R. S. Cline, Hillcrest avenue, Wednesday, when, at noon, a most delicious casserole luncheon was served at long tables arranged under a canopy on the lawn. Bunting and white and blue appointments carried out a patriotic note in decoration. Places were arranged for 27 members of the Baird Missionary Society of Highland church.

During the afternoon Mrs. T. J. McPate gave an interesting talk on her trip to the Frenchburg Mission and Mrs. W. D. Jones, with a map, described the various mission stations.

Arrangements were made for a noon picnic dinner in July at the cottage of Lee Marvin at Neshannock Falls, for the members and their children.

Mrs. Lee R. Pyle and Mrs. C. C. Withers were associate hostesses with Mrs. Cline.

Cherby Tranquillo
This morning in St. Vitus church a pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita when he joined together in wedlock Miss Clara Cherby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cherby, of 507 East Division street and Ettore Tranquillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernestine Tranquillo, of Pittsburgh.

Miss Evelyn Cozza was maid of honor and Frank Cherby, the bride's brother, served as best man. The bridesmaid included: Misses Elsie Bendito, Emily Cozza, Rosetta Cherby, Dorothy Scarazzo. Miss Bendito and Miss Cozza, are from Chicago, Ill. The ushers were Victor Cozza, and Ernest Cherby. Frank Cozza, and Ernest Cherby, Little Richard Scarazzo was ring bearer and Vera Scarazzo was veil carrier.

Dinner was served to about 50 persons in the bride's home, at noon. Tonight a reception will take place. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Tranquillo will leave for a honeymoon to Chicago. Upon returning they will reside at 507 East Division street.

Change Residences
Mrs. J. Etta Mathels and daughter Miss Hannah Walker have changed their residence from Brooklyn avenue to Park avenue.

New Revolution In Germany Is Believed Near

Hitler Goes To Confer With Von Hindenburg; Gravest Of Situations

CRISIS REACHED LEADERS BELIEVE

BERLIN, June 21.—Increasing turmoil in Germany, both above and beneath the surface, led to growing predictions today among observers of the shifting scene that a "second revolution" is brewing and may break in the autumn of this year.

The fate of the Reich, it was believed, rested on the lap of the grizzled old soldier, Paul von Hindenburg, president, who is beloved of millions of Germans. The president today was conferring at his summer home in Neudeck with Chancellor Adolf Hitler over what is regarded as the gravest crisis Hitler has faced since he came into power.

Aimed at Capitalists. The "second revolution," it and when it comes, will be aimed at the capitalist classes, those who take the pessimistic view of the situation believe. These observers cite the increasingly turbulent activities of the communists as an indication of the growing gravity of the internal situation.

Communists were blamed for the attack yesterday upon Heinrich Himmler, chief of the secret state police, who was fired upon from a forest near Schorffelde while en route to attend the re-interment of the remains of the wife of Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, the aviation minister. Several shots fired by unknown persons narrowly missed Himmler.

Although police were quickly mobilized and the forest thoroughly searched, no one was found.

Cabinet Crisis.

German newspapers printed nothing about the attack on Himmler.

Some well-informed persons professed to believe that the shots were meant for Hitler.

While turmoil throughout the country was becoming more noticeable, a cabinet crisis also had developed and it was this, chiefly, that took Hitler to Neudeck for his conferences with President Hindenburg. The cabinet situation has arisen on radical elements in the Nazi government made in a speech last Sunday by Franz von Papen, vice-chancellor. Von Papen virtually called for a Nazi housecleaning and liberalization of its policies. When his speech was suppressed he tendered his resignation, it was understood, but subsequently withdrew it, for the present at least.

Von Papen Confers. Von Papen, always a confidante of the aged president, stole a march on Hitler, it was learned today, and went to Neudeck yesterday. There he laid before the president his version of the cabinet situation. Hitler trailed today with his side of the picture. Von Papen returned to Berlin before Hitler arrived at Neudeck.

The belief was that the entire situation rested in President von Hindenburg's hands. In Nazi circles it was considered a question whether Von Papen had the power to convince the president he should force a reorganization of the Hitler government, or throw it out as he did the ministry of former Chancellor Heinrich Brüning.

St. Mary's Picnic Is Under Way

Quite a crowd had gathered at Cascade park at 2 o'clock this afternoon where children of St. Mary's and other parochial schools of the city are enjoying a picnic. A large number of children were accompanied by their parents.

City Assessor In Fifth Ward

Andrew Sands, city assessor, has completed the taking of information for occupational tax purposes in the First, Sixth and Third wards and now is working in the Fifth ward, it was reported today.

'Mine Sealing' Is Still Progressing

Slippery Rock Creek Project Proceeds Under RWD; Local Funds Helped

Progressing as fast as RWD appropriations will permit, the "sealing" of abandoned coal mines which border the Slippery Rock creek has accomplished part of the goal which sportsmen of the district have from the start held in view—the closing of every old mine which discharges the poisonous sulphur water, injurious to the fish of the stream.

Alderman O. H. P. Green, in a letter from L. G. Hines, active in the sealing work, was told that 31 mine openings and nine shafts have already been closed. The Butler county RWD administrator, the letter said, is enthusiastic over the project and is cooperating as much as he can.

A corps of workers are engaged in the work three days each week, Mr. Hines wrote.

The fund which enabled sportsmen to buy materials for the work was freely contributed to by New Castle residents.

New Wilmington

MUSIC INSTRUCTRESS ON VISIT

Miss Elizabeth Rose, instructress of music in the local school, spent several days last week visiting the various schools in Pittsburgh as the guest of Dr. Katherine Foulke. Most of the time was spent in Feaddy high school, but Miss Rose viewed the musical instruction from the lowest grade to the highest and received many valuable points for next year's instruction.

TO TEACH AGAIN

Gerald Newton, instructor of mathematics at Pitcairn high school last term, was notified yesterday of his reelection to the position.

Newton was a versatile athlete at New Wilmington high school and Westminster College, playing for several years with coach John Lawther's Titans.

He is spending the summer at the "Forks," a summer resort near Neshannock Falls, Pa.

A. A. DEFEATS HIGH SCHOOL

Age again proved its supremacy over youth at the local diamond on Tuesday night when the veteran New Wilmington A. A. team took a fighting high school nine in tow to the tune of 7-1.

The game, tight throughout, developed into a pitching duel between the Eagleson brothers, with the A. A.

pitcher finally outclassing his younger brother. John Eagleson, pitcher for the veteran nine, allowed but two hits while his brother was found for seven safe blows. The younger lad had the edge on strikeouts, however, and pitched a fine game to fan 10 A. A. batters.

A lone run was tallied in the first six innings when the A. A. was in a decided slump. Finally Hutchison found R. Eagleson for a mighty clout which was good for four bases and then the track meet started.

RECOVERING Little Joan, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pusco, has recovered from a serious attack of lead poisoning caused from the fumes of the paint being used to cover the house. The little girl was quite ill for some time, but is now well on the road to recovery.

TO ATTEND SUMMER SESSION "Jeff" Byler, a local man who has established a record for himself in athletic circles and who is at present head coach at Elizabeth, Pa., high school, will depart for Columbia University on the first of July where he will complete work for his M. A. in Physical Education.

Byler has had a good year at Elizabeth and has developed a weak outfit into a potential threat to every team in his district. He will return to Elizabeth, Pa., for the fall term.

PAINTING GOING ON

New Wilmington painters have come out of seclusion and are busy painting many local houses. The writer notices many houses that have been enhanced by a new coat of paint. The Elliott home on West Neshannock avenue is being covered, the McElwee house on Waugh avenue has been completed, the Thompson home on New Castle street has received its first coat, while several others are being started.

MOVE HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Shaffer and family have moved their household furnishings from the Herriot home on Beechwood Road to the Gibson home on West Neshannock avenue, formerly occupied by Prof. and Mrs. Moorhead who have left the community for the summer months.

Mr. Shaffer is superintendent of buildings and grounds at Westminster College.

BRIDGE COMPLETED

The RWD project on Oak street has been completed and the full force of men will be placed on the extension project on Maple street on Monday morning.

The bridge is of a cement formation on the bottom while the sides are built with steel guard rails. The bridge is placed on an angle and is of very durable construction.

NEW WILMINGTON NOTES

Miss Burnzetta Newton is attending the summer session of Geneva College.

Ralph Gilliland and Robert Weber were New Castle callers on Tuesday afternoon.

B. F. Kauffman, with son Lawrence, was a business visitor in Cleveland on Tuesday.

Wilbert Anderson and C. B. White with son Robert, spent Tuesday night and Wednesday fishing the waters of Lake Erie.

Mrs. J. G. Patterson has returned from the Women's General Missionary Conference held in Steubenville this week. She reports a very educational and instructive trip.

Members of the Louise Scott Missionary Society will meet in the United Presbyterian church parlor tonight for their regular monthly meeting. The session will be called to order at 7:45.

Professor and Mrs. Harold Brennar moved to Indianapolis, Indiana, last week to bring Professor Brennar's parents here for a visit with them in the Bank Apartments. Mr. Brennar is head of the Art Department at the College.

Parents Invited To Camp Friday

Friday Afternoon And Evening To Bring Parents To Camp East Brook

Parents of the young girls who are spending the present 12-day period at Camp East Brook are invited to visit the camp on Friday afternoon and evening between the hours of 3 and 8:30.

Those parents who care to may make reservations for supper at the camp by calling the camp or the Y. W. C. A. today or tonight. No reservations will be taken Friday.

Supper will be served at 5:30 o'clock. In order that the mothers and fathers may get a better idea of the camp program the girls will have their regular morning classes tomorrow from 9 to 11 a. m.

One week from tomorrow not only the parents but all friends and relatives will be invited to visit the camp.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. June 20: eight arrests on charges as follows: violation of parking 6, drunkenness 1 and suspicion 1.

George Chip, former middleweight champion of the world, is one ex-champion who fears work no more than he fears ring opponents. During the past few days he has been employed at the disposal plant. He mixes concrete. The ex-champion, in commenting on the job, said: "When I finish up here I will be in condition to mix with anyone."

When council convenes next Monday the city may award contracts for three automobiles and police patrol. The last bids were thrown out. It is reported that by the time the machines are delivered the radio will have been almost constructed. It may start operating in July.

Fire Chief Stockman and Safety Director Davies yesterday discussed affairs of the fire department during which Stockman severely condemned the practice of autoists who speed their cars in the wake of trucks enroute to fires. He said one way of eliminating the practice would be to arrest them.

Councilman Butler said yesterday he expects that resurfacing of streets with asphalt will start next week. He said approximately 50 men would be called to work. The first project to be undertaken will be Cedar street. The street car company repaved its section some years ago.

THIRD OF FARMS HAVE ELECTRICITY

HARRISBURG, June 21.—Almost one-third of the farm homes in Pennsylvania now have electricity and many of the advantages it brings, according to the State Department of Agriculture.

The total number of farms electrified increased from 23,354 in 1924 to 55,630 on January 1, 1934.

This movement has been greatly aided by close cooperation of state agencies, utility companies and farm property owners. A joint committee on rural electrification has been functioning in the state for the past eight years.

The words that, who, what, which and whoever, when they are used as substantives and in such a way that the clauses in which they stand are made adjective clauses are called relative pronouns.

TAX COLLECTION COSTLY IN SMALL DISTRICTS

State Survey Reveals Facts

Need Of Consolidation Of Smaller School Districts Is Shown

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 21—Collection of school taxes in districts with less than 5,000 population cost 16 times as much per $100 as in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia during 1933.

This wide variance in the expense of obtaining tax funds for public schools was revealed today in a financial survey of the state's educational system released by the department of public instruction.

The report showed that it cost 19 cents to collect $100 in taxes in first class districts of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, or about one dollar for every $500. The cost in fourth class school districts was $3.10 to collect $100 or one dollar for every $33.

Need Consolidation
Commenting upon the figures, Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, asserted:

"In this report, we find emphasized again in decisive fashion the need for consolidation of school districts in Pennsylvania and the concentration of administration in fewer hands."

In the first class districts of the state's two largest cities however the per pupil cost of collecting $43,850.26 in taxes was only 29 cents or a total of $103.484. The per pupil cost in fourth class districts to collect $29,258.910 in taxes was $1.31 or $833.637. Fourth class district schools have nearly twice the number of pupils as first class districts.

Second class districts, located mostly in cities other than Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, spent 99 cents per pupil or $232.695 to collect $23,233.590 in taxes. The per pupil cost in their class cities, located in boroughs and larger townships, was $1.37 or $758.680 to collect $36,339.702 in taxes.

Total tax collections in all types of districts dropped in 1933 as compared with 1932 and cost of tax collections dropped correspondingly. This was reflected in a decreased cost per pupil for collecting taxes, which was accentuated by the increased enrollment of nearly 42,000 pupils.

In the Age of Billions.
Cold-Blooded Crime.
Old Bill Did Not Know.
Europe's Heat and Drought.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CONGRESS number seventy-three goes home after appropriating for variegated spending between six thousand eight hundred and SEVEN THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS.

No Congress ever appropriated so much in peace time.

We are living in the era of "BILLIONS."

WITH CONGRESS gone home, President Roosevelt is lord of all he surveys, which is no great change. He was pretty much that before the adjournment. We have no dictator in the United States, and shall not have one unless something strange and unusual happens, but the President has as much of a dictator's power as he chooses to use.

Congress, with unimportant exceptions, obeyed orders while in session, and the country will look to the President now to initiate and put through whatever he chooses. That situation probably does not suit him. It involves great responsibility.

A COLD-BLOODED story tells about a most important activity in the United States, that of organized crime.

According to the police, Isadore Guttman, aged 27, prosperous in his line, bought a new sedan automobile. His business and that of two associates, Henry Teel, aged 24; Peter Georgianna, aged 25, was "hijacking."

The hijacking criminal watches for other criminals that have stolen truckloads of merchandise or imported truckloads of liquor, holds up the truck, shoots the driver, steals the merchandise or liquor.

Hijacking annoys criminals that are its victims and they discourage hijacking whenever possible.

THEY DISCOURAGED Messrs. Guttman, Teel and Georgianna, all three of whom are found in the back seat of Mr. Guttman's new car, their bodies riddled with bullets, in the back, in the neck, in the head. Long strips of adhesive tape, many yards of it, had been used to seal their eyes and mouths tightly. Their hands and legs were bound.

The curious thing is that these and other criminals found dead seem to have made no real effort to escape their doom, once the killers had "the drop" on them.

They seem to have submitted to the taping of eyes, mouths and the rest of it, although knowing that this was a prelude to death.

Such crimes among criminals are so common that many newspapers devote only a few lines to them. They might devote more, for a nation in which crime earns and spends an income greater than that of the national government, with no effective protest anywhere, is a nation in a bad condition.

"OLD BILL," dead in London, was a carrier pigeon. He carried messages during the first year of the big war from British army and air forces in France and Belgium back to London and lost a leg. Brought back to England by an invalid soldier, he enjoyed life for many years and now has laudatory "obituary notices" in English papers.

"Old Bill" flew back and forth in the big war and lost a leg without ever knowing WHY he was flying or why he had to lose that leg.

But, "Old Bill" was no more ignorant than a majority of the soldiers over whose heads he flew on the way to the front. The quality of the wine depends on sunshine and rain combined, the quantity of rain especially.

FRANCE WORRIES about numerous forest fires, little rain has fallen, the wheat crop is short many millions of bushels.

Vineyards and the precious wine crop are not in danger yet, but will be unless rain falls soon. The quality of the wine depends on sunshine and rain combined, the quantity of rain especially.

If you buy Chateau Lafite, the highest grade Bordeaux, direct from the Rothschilds, who own the vineyard, their agent writes you before the grapes are picked, letting you know at what price per barrel, of about three hundred bottles, the year's vintage is held. But you cannot be sure until ten years later. Or even twenty years later, as in the case of the marvelous crop of 1848, just how good the wine will be.

LONDON ALSO worries about heat and shortage of water, and strange things happen. Dignified British policemen directed traffic in their shirt sleeves, and Lord Merivale, austere British judge, unable to stand the heat, took off his sheepskin wig in court, and worked in his own natural hair, or the lack of it.

A NEW CRIME "racket" displays ingenuity worthy of a better cause. According to police, Dominick Zerbini, reputable junk dealer of New York, was standing by when a shot was heard and Carmelo Soudieri fell to the ground, his chest stained with gore. Terrible for Zerbini was the thought of being mixed up in a murder case. He paid $1,500 on the assurance that he would not be dragged into it and $500 more to pay for the funeral of the "unfortunate dead man."

LATER HE saw the same "dead man" in a subway train. The noise had been made by a blank cartridge, and the crimson stain on the "dead man's" chest was tomato ketchup. This new "racket," police say, has yielded to its inventors $100,000 profit already.

CONGRATULATIONS to Senator Capper, of Kansas, who killed an effort to put through the Senate a bill that would have legalized horse-racing and concomitant gambling in the District of Columbia. There are plenty of such gambling resorts within easy reach of Washington. It is not necessary to put one close to the United States Treasury for the convenience of book-makers and touts, or race-track "gentlemen," anxious to pump the salaries of civil service employees into their own pockets.

THE PRESIDENT and Mrs. Roosevelt have a new grand-daughter only six weeks old, and thought they would like to see her before the President starts on his cruise to Hawaii. The baby is in Fort Worth, Texas, fully fifteen-hundred miles from Washington, but father Elliott Roosevelt and his wife, who own the baby, want the distinguished grandfather to see it. So the six weeks old Roosevelt will fly, unless plans change, the fifteen hundred miles to Washington.

That is something that would surprise any distinguished great uncle Theodore Roosevelt, who liked strange things.

It's Easy To Put On LOVELY CURVES NOW!

Skinnny?

ADD 5 POUNDS OF ALLURING CURVES

...this quick new way!

New Natural Mineral Concentrate from the Sea — Free from Drugs — Fills Out Ugly Hollows with Firm Flesh — OR NO COST!

Here is good news for skinny, under-weight folks who can't add a pound or two. There is a new way to add 5 to 8 lbs. in 32 days or it doesn't cost you a penny. Thousands of skinny, scrawny, rundown people have tried it and are amazed at the astounding new natural way to win back health and weight. Yet these results are not unusual. Doctors know how vitally necessary are natural food minerals often so woefully lacking in even the most carefully devised fresh vegetable diet. Unless your system gets the proper amount of these minerals, many of them needed in only the tiniest quantities, even the best food fails to nourish you. Fat is blood flesh and firm, fish and starchy muscles. This lack of mineralization results in the failure to digest starches and fats in the normal diet. It makes no difference whether your appetite is good or bad, your food is converted into poisonous wastes instead of firm flesh and wireless energy.

Food specialists, however, have only recently discovered a marvelous source of practically every single mineral essential to body needs. It is known as Kelp-A-Malt, a pleasant, easy to take vegetable concentrate made from a luxurious sea plant from the Pacific Ocean combined with diastatic malt extract, in delicious, pleasant, lasting tablets. It provides in easily assimilable form iron, copper and manganese for strength, vigor and vitality, calcium and phosphorus for strong teeth and bones, sulphur for proper elimination, sodium, potassium and magnesium to correct stomach acidity and indigestion.

Supplies Newer Form of Food Iodine

And most important—Kelp-A-Malt is the richest known source of the newer form of food iodine, the lack of which causes in nutrition malnutrition is our foremost national health problem. Scientists know that a good, liver and vital glands of the body contain definite, determined quantities of iodine which, heretofore, have been difficult to obtain. A recent report indicates that 40 million people in the United States alone fail to get enough iodine in their daily food. To overcome this deficiency, dietitians suggest that we should all eat two plates of raw oysters—carefully regarded as the best source of iodine—each week, to overcome this appalling iodine shortage. Yet Kelp-A-Malt, this newest vegetable concentrate, contains thirteen hundred times more food iodine than oysters!

Try Kelp-A-Malt for a single week. Watch your appetite improve, firm flesh appear instead of scrawny hollows. Feel the arteries vigor and vitality it brings you. It corrects your, acid stomach. Gas, indigestion and all the usual distress commonly experienced by the undernourished and the underweight disappear. Contains no yeast—doesn't cause bloating.

Prove the worth of this amazing weight builder today. Two weeks are required to effect a change in the mineralization of the body. At the end of that time if you feel better and have more endurance than ever before, return the unused tablets and every penny of your money will be cheerfully refunded. Kelp-A-Malt comes in packages of 100 Jumbo size tablets, which are 4 to 6 times larger than ordinary tablets and costs only a few cents a day to use. Be sure to remember the name—Kelp-A-Malt. Tablets—original and genuine kelp and malt tablets. Prescribed and used by physicians. There is nothing else like them so don't accept imitations or substitutes. A line for underweight children too—improves their appetite. Get Kelp-A-Malt today.

TAX COLLECTION COSTLY IN SMALL DISTRICTS

State Survey Reveals Facts

Need Of Consolidation Of Smaller School Districts Is Shown

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 21.—Collection of school taxes in districts with less than 5,000 population cost 16 times as much per $100 as in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia during 1933.

This wide variance in the expense of obtaining tax funds for public schools was revealed today in a financial survey of the state's educational system released by the department of public instruction.

The report showed that it cost 19 cents to collect $100 in taxes in first class districts of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, or about one dollar for every $500. The cost in fourth class school districts was $3.10 to collect $100 or one dollar for every $33.

Need Consolidation
Commenting upon the figures, Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, asserted:

"In this report, we find emphasized again in decisive fashion the need for consolidation of school districts in Pennsylvania and the concentration of administration in fewer hands."

In the first class districts of the state's two largest cities however the per pupil cost of collecting $43,850.24 in taxes was only 28 cents or a total of $103.44. The per pupil cost in fourth class districts to collect $29,258.910 in taxes was $1.31 or $833.637. Fourth class district schools have nearly twice the number of pupils as first class districts.

Second class districts, located mostly in cities other than Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, spent 99 cents per pupil or $232.695 to collect $22,333,590 in taxes. The per pupil cost in their class cities, located in boroughs and larger townships, was $1.37 or $758.680 to collect $33,339,702 in taxes.

Total tax collections in all types of districts dropped in 1933 as compared with 1932 and cost of tax collections dropped correspondingly. This was reflected in a decreased cost per pupil for collecting taxes, which was accentuated by the increased enrollment of nearly 42,000 pupils.

In the Age of Billions.
Cold-Blooded Crime.
Old Bill Did Not Know.
Europe's Heat and Drought.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CONGRESS number seventy-three goes home after appropriating for variegated spending between six thousand eight hundred and SEVEN THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS.

No Congress ever appropriated so much in peace times.

WITH CONGRESS gone home, President Roosevelt is lord of all he surveys, which is no great change. He was pretty much that before the adjournment. We have no dictator in the United States, and shall not have one unless something strange and unusual happens, but the President has as much of a dictator's power as he chooses to use.

Congress, with unimportant exceptions, obeyed orders while in session, and the country will look to the President now to initiate and put through whatever he chooses. That situation probably does not suit him. It involves great responsibility.

A COLD-BLOODED story tells about a most important activity in the United States, that of organized crime.

According to the police, Isadore Gutman, aged 27, prosperous in his line, bought a new sedan automobile. His business and that of two associates, Henry Teel, aged 24; Peter Georgianna, aged 25, was "hijacking."

The hijacking criminal watches for other criminals that have stolen truckloads of merchandise or imported truckloads of liquor, holds up the truck, shoots the driver, steals the merchandise or liquor.

Hijacking annoys criminals that are its victims and they discourage hijacking whenever possible.

THEY DISCOURAGED Messrs. Gutman, Teel and Georgianna, all three of whom are found in the back seat of Mr. Gutman's new car, their bodies riddled with bullets, in the back, in the neck, in the head. Long strips of adhesive tape, many yards of it, had been used to seal their eyes and mouths tightly. Their hands and legs were bound.

The curious thing is that these and other criminals found dead seem to have made no real effort to escape their doom, once the killers had "the drop" on them.

They seem to have submitted to the taping of eyes, mouths and the rest of it, although knowing that this was a prelude to death.

Such crimes among criminals are so common that many newspapers devote only a few lines to them. They might devote more, for a nation in which crime earns and spends an income greater than that of the national government, with no effective protest anywhere, is a nation in a bad condition.

"OLD BILL," dead in London, was a carrier pigeon. He carried messages during the first year of the big war from British army and air forces in France and Belgium back to London and lost a leg. Brought back to England by an invalid soldier, he enjoyed life for many years, and now has laudatory "obituary notices" in English papers.

"Old Bill" flew back and forth in the big war and lost a leg without ever knowing WHY he was flying or why he had to lose that leg.

But, "Old Bill" was no more ignorant than a majority of the soldiers over whose heads he flew on errands that he did not understand.

FRANCE WORRIES about numerous forest fires, little rain has fallen, the wheat crop is short many millions of bushels.

Vineyards and the precious wine crop are not in danger yet, but will be unless rain falls soon. The quality of the wine depends on sunshine and rain combined, the quantity of rain especially.

If you buy Chateau Lafitte, the highest grade Bordeaux, direct from the Rothschilds, who own the vineyard, their agent writes you before the grapes are picked, letting you know at what price per barrique, of about three hundred bottles, the year's vintage is held. But you cannot be sure until ten years later. Or even twenty years later, as in the case of the marvelous crop of 1848, just how good the wine will be.

LONDON ALSO worries about heat and shortage of water, and strange things happen. Dignified British policemen directed traffic in their shirtsleeves, and Lord Merivale, austere British judge, unable to stand the heat, took off his sheepskin wig in court, and worked in his own natural hair, or the lack of it.

A NEW CRIME "racket" displays ingenuity worthy of a better cause. According to police, Dominick Zerbini, reputable junk dealer of New York, was standing by when a shot was heard and Carmelo Scuderi fell to the ground, his chest stained with gore. Terrible for Zerbini was the thought of being mixed up in a murder case. He paid $1,500 on the assurance that he would not be dragged into it and $500 more to pay for the funeral of the "unfortunate dead man."

LATER HE saw the same "dead man" in a subway train. The noise had been made by a blank cartridge, and the crimson stain on the "dead man's" chest was tomato ketchup. This new "racket," police say, has yielded to its inventors $100,000 profit already.

CONGRATULATIONS to Senator Capper, of Kansas, who killed an effort to put through the Senate a bill that would have legalized horse-racing and concomitant gambling in the District of Columbia. to the United States Treasury for the convenience of book-makers and touts, or race-track "gentlemen," anxious to pump the salaries of civil service employees into their own pockets.

THE PRESIDENT and Mrs. Roosevelt have a new grand-daughter only six weeks old, and thought they would like to see her before the President starts on his cruise to Hawaii. The baby is in Fort Worth, Texas, fully fifteen-hundred miles from Washington, but father Elliott Roosevelt and his wife, who own the baby, wait the distinguished grandfather to see it. So the six weeks old Roosevelt will fly, unless plans change, the fifteen hundred miles to Washington.

That is something that would surprise her distinguished great uncle, Theodore Roosevelt, who liked strange things.

Skinny?

ADD 5 POUNDS OF ALLURING CURVES

...this quick new way!

Here is good news for skinny, under-weight folks who can't add a pound no matter what they eat. There is a new way to add 3 to 8 lbs. in 12 days or it doesn't cost you a penny. Thousands of skinny, scrawny, rundown people have tried it and are amazed at this astounding new natural way to win back health and weight. Yet these results are not unusual. Doctors know how vitally necessary are natural food minerals often so woefully lacking in even the most carefully devised fresh vegetable diets. Unless your system gets the proper amount of these minerals, many of them needed in only the tiniest quantities, even the best food fails to nourish you, fails to build rich, red blood, firm flesh and sturdy muscles. This lack of mineralization results in the failure to digest starches and fats in the normal diet. It makes no difference whether your appetite is good or bad, your food is converted into poisonous wastes instead of firm flesh and tireless energy.

Food specialists, however, have only recently discovered a marvelous source of practically every single mineral essential to body needs. It is known as Kelp-A-Malt, a pleasant, easy to take vegetable concentrate made from a luxuriant sea plant from the Pacific Ocean combined with diastatic malt extract, in delicious, pleasant tasting tablets. It provides in easily assimilable form iron, copper and manganese for tireless vigor and vitality, calcium and phosphorus for strong teeth and bones, sulphur for proper elimination, sodium, potassium and magnesium to correct stomach gas, acidity and indigestion.

Supplies New Form of Food Iodine

And most important—Kelp-A-Malt is the richest known source of the newer form of food iodine, the lack of which experts in nutrition maintain is our foremost national health problem. Scientists know that the blood, liver and vital glands of the body contain definite, determined quantities of iodine which, heretofore, have been difficult to obtain. A recent report indicates that 60 million people in the United States alone fail to get enough iodine in their daily food and every penny's worth of deficiency suggests that we should all eat two plates of raw oysters—heretofore regarded as the best source of iodine—each week to overcome this appalling iodine shortage. Yet Kelp-A-Malt, this newest vegetable concentrate, contains thirteen hundred times more food iodine than oysters!

Try Kelp-A-Malt for a single week. Watch your appetite improve, firm flesh appear instead of scrawny hollows. Feel the tireless vigor and vitality it brings you. It not only improves your looks, but your health as well. It corrects sour, acid stomach, Gas, indigestion and all the usual distress commonly experienced by the undernourished and the underweight disappear. Contains no yeast—doesn't cause bloating.

Prove the worth of this amazing weight builder today. Two weeks are required to effect a change in the mineralization of the body. At the end of that time if you have not gained at least 8 pounds, do not look better, return the unused tablets and every penny of your money will be cheerfully refunded. Kelp-A-Malt comes in packages of 100 Jumbo size tablets, which are 4 to 5 times larger than ordinary size tablets, and costs only a few cents a day to take. Be sure to remember the name—Kelp-A-Malt. Tablets—original and genuine kelp and malt tablets. Prescribed and used by physicians. There is no substitute like them so don't accept imitations too—improves their appetites. Get Kelp-A-Malt today.

Comparison of Minerals in Kelp-A-Malt and Vegetables

3 KELP-A-MALT TABLETS CONTAIN

1. More Iron and Copper than 1 pound of spinach or 7½ pounds of fresh tomatoes or 3 pounds of asparagus.
2. More Phosphorus than 1½ pounds of carrots.
3. More Calcium than 1 pound of cabbage or 6 eggs.
4. More Sulphur than 2 pounds of potatoes.
5. More Sodium than 3 pounds of turnips.
6. More Potassium than 6 pounds of beans.
7. More Magnesium than 1 pound of celery.
8. Kelp-A-MALT tablets provide more food iodine than 486 pounds of spinach, or 1800 pounds of beef, or 1387 pounds of lettuce, or 522 pounds of oranges.

Five Injured In Philadelphia As Home Is Burned

YOUNG MAN IS SEVERELY BURNED

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—An heroic rescue was effected here today as fire destroyed a home and injured five persons, three of whom were pronounced in a dying condition at a hospital.

Bravely dashing into the inferno at the risk of his life, John Powell, 24, rescued five-year-old Edward Sankey. When he emerged from the burning building with the child in his arms, Powell's hair was almost completely burned from his head and his face was a mass of seared flesh. The child suffered burns on the face and chest.

Five injured
Powell's brother, Otto, 35, the latter's wife, Catherine, 24, and Mrs. Powell's child by a previous marriage, Anna Sankey, four, were burned and injured in leaps from the second story windows and were rushed to a hospital in critical condition.

Edward Sankey, rescued by Young Powell, was also a child of Mrs. Powell.

Taking her four-year-old daughter in her arms, Mrs. Powell stepped off the window ledge. As the mother landed on the ground the child fell away from her and suffered a possible skull fracture, besides burns and other injuries. Mrs. Powell was internally injured.

The husband was critically burned and internally injured when he also jumped after dropping a third child to the arms of firemen.

Woman Captures Bold Burglar

Philadelphia Woman Grabs Ice-Pick and Holds Burglar At Bay Till Police Arrive

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—A brave young woman, Mrs. Jeanne Morris, 21, captured a burglar single-handedly here today by holding him at bay with an ice-pick.

The prowler was searching for loot in Mrs. Morris' home when the young matron came upon him. She snatched the ice-pick from the burglar's belt and held it against his neck, threatening to stab him if he moved.

Mrs. Morris' shouts for help were heard by neighborhood policemen who rushed in and arrested the captive. He identified himself as Joseph Simlster, 21.

MARGARET IS HAPPY AND GAY SINCE TAKING VENDOL TONIC

Mother Tells How The New Medicine Gave A Wonderful Appetite, Helped Her Stomach And Now She Romps And Plays Like Other Healthy Children.

MISS MARGARET ANDRECHIK

"All of us are feeling very friendly to Vendol since it has done so much for my little eight-year-old daughter Margaret," said Mrs. Mary Andrechik, of 30 W. Terrace Avenue, New Castle. "This family has lived in New Castle many years and are wide and favorably known in a wide circle of friends, so this statement will have much influence."

"Before we started Margaret taking Vendol, she had such poor appetite that she would even sit at the table and cry, saying she was not hungry. I prepared special food for her but nothing tasted good. I am sure her stomach was out of order, for even a glass of milk would disagree with her at times and she would throw it up. She was not like most children, wanting to eat a sandwich or bread and butter between meals, and sometimes her stomach would feel so sore that she would jump and scream with pain that I would have to put a hot water bag on her."

"She was always feeling tired, had no life in her, was nervous and restless at night, and her skin looked pale and yellow."

"Four days after she started taking Vendol she said, 'Mother, I'm so hungry.' She has now finished her third bottle and has a wonderful appetite. She eats hearty meals

Five Injured In Philadelphia As Home Is Burned

YOUNG MAN IS SEVERELY BURNED

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—An heroic rescue was effected here early today as five persons, three of whom were pronounced in a dying condition at a hospital.

Bravely dashing into the inferno at the risk of his life, John Powell, Jr., 24, rescued five-year-old Edward Sankey. When he emerged from the burning building with the child in his arms, young Powell's hair was almost completely burned from his head and his face was a mass of seared flesh. The child suffered burns on the face and chest.

Five Injured
Powell's brother Otto, 35, the latter's wife Catherine, 24 and Mrs. Powell's child by a previous marriage, Anna Sankey, four, were burned and injured in leaps from the second story windows and were rushed to a hospital in critical condition.

Edward Sankey, rescued by Young Powell, was also a child of Mrs. Powell.

Taking her four-year-old daughter in her arms, Mrs. Powell stepped off the window ledge. As the mother landed on the ground the child fell away from her and suffered a possible skull fracture, besides burns and other injuries. Mrs. Powell was internally injured.

The husband was critically burned and internally injured when he also jumped after dropping a third child to the arms of firemen.

Racing Gambler Held By Police

Pittsburgh Police Raid Racing Track Gambler's Headquarters, Nab Man

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 21.—Race track gambling in this area was believed today to have been dealt with a death blow following a raid on a downtown book-making establishment in which one man was arrested.

Conway, seized on a bookmaking and common gambler charge, was released on $2,500 bail. He is a reputed leader of the "bookie" establishments in the tri-state area.

Bessemer Invests New Troop Friday

St. Anthony's Church Backs New Organization; Troop 12 To Lead

Bessemer's second Boy Scout troop, one which St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church will sponsor, will be formally invested at a program in St. Anthony's church there on Friday evening, June 22, at 8 o'clock, standard time. Ed Maley is the troop's scoutmaster.

In charge of the investiture ceremony will be Troop 12 of the Second U. P. church of which Raymond Zeigler is scoutmaster. Troop 12 is a leader in council affairs.

Fourteen Bessemer boys are listed on the new troop's charter list. Scout Executive H. G. Horton reports.

Bessemer's first troop is that sponsored by the First Presbyterian church of the town.

A delicious salad for a hot day can be made by taking one-half cup watermelon, one-half cup diced oranges, one-half cup diced pineapple (fresh if possible), one-third cup French dressing. Wash, cress, chill. Mix and chill fruits. Arrange cress on service plates and add remaining ingredients.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, and restores the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Becker's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. and all good druggists advise very sufferer to get bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

Woman Captures Bold Burglar

Philadelphia Woman Grabs Ice-Pick And Holds Burglar At Bay Till Police Arrive

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—A brave young woman, Mrs. Jeanne Morris, 21, captured a burglar single-handedly here today by holding him at bay with an ice-pick.

The prowler was searching for loot in Mrs. Morris' home when the young matron came upon him. She snatched the ice-pick from the burglar's belt and held it against his neck, threatening to stab him if he moved.

Mrs. Morris' shouts for help were heard by neighborhood policemen who rushed in and arrested the captive. He identified himself as Joseph Siminister, 21.

MARGARET IS HAPPY AND GAY SINCE TAKING VENDOL TONIC

Mother Tells How The New Medicine Gave A Wonderful Appetite, Helped Her Stomach And Now She Rumps And Plays Like Other Healthy Children.

"All of us are feeling very friendly to Vendol since it has done so much for my little eight-year-old daughter Margaret," said Mrs. Mary Andrechik, of 30 W. Terrace Avenue, New Castle. This family has lived in New Castle many years and are wide and favorably known in a wide circle of friends, so this statement will have much influence.

"Before we started Margaret taking Vendol, she had such poor appetite that she would even sit at the table and cry, saying she was not hungry. I prepared special food for her but nothing tasted good. I am sure her stomach was out of order, for even a glass of milk would disagree with her at times and she would throw it up. She was not like most children, wanting to eat a sandwich or bread and butter between meals, and sometimes her stomach would feel so sore that she would jump and scream with pain that I would have to put a hot water bag on her.

"She was always feeling tired, had no life in her, was nervous and restless at night, and her skin looked pale and yellow.

"Four days after she started taking Vendol she said, 'Mother, I'm so hungry.' She has now finished her third bottle and has a wonderful appetite. She eats hearty meals with two big sandwiches at noon. Her sleep is sound and she never kicks or turns over, and jumps out of bed every morning full of life. Her complexion has cleared up, and she never complains of pains in her stomach any more. I have advised several of my neighbors to start their children on Vendol and I am sure it will help any child who is like Margaret used to be."

If you are not feeling very best, come to the New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington Street, ask for me, the Vendol Man, and I will tell you how my splendid medicine will help you as it has so many people right here in town. So, come today, if possible.

Five Injured In Philadelphia As Home Is Burned

YOUNG MAN IS SEVERELY BURNED

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—An heroic rescue was effected here today as fire destroyed a home and injured five persons, three of whom were pronounced in a dying condition at a hospital.

Bravely dashing into the inferno at the risk of his life, John Powell, Jr., 24, rescued five-year old Edward Sankey. When he emerged from the burning building with the child in his arms young Powell's hair was almost completely burned from his head and his face was a mass of seared flesh. The child suffered burns on his face and chest.

Five injured. Powell's brother Otto, 35, the latter's wife Catherine, 24 and Mrs. Powell's child by a previous marriage, Anna Sankey, four, were burned and injured in leaps from the second story windows and were rushed to a hospital in critical condition.

Edward Sankey, rescued by Young Powell, was also a child of Mrs. Powell. Taking her four-year old daughter in her arms, Mrs. Powell stepped off the window ledge. As the mother landed on the ground the child fell away from her and suffered a possible skull fracture, besides burns and other injuries. Mrs. Powell was internally injured.

The husband was critically burned and internally injured when he also jumped after dropping a third child to the arms of firemen.

Racing Gambler Held By Police

Pittsburgh Police Raid Racing Track Gambler's Headquarters, Nab Man

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, June 21.—Race track gambling in this area was believed today to have been dealt with a death blow following a raid on a downtown book-making establishment in which one man was arrested.

City detectives, who made the raid on the alleged headquarters of a ring of bookie shops in the Pittsburgh district, arrested John Conway, 55, and confiscated a number of forms and betting sheets.

Conway, seized on a bookmaking and common gambler charge, was released on $2,500 bail. He is a reputed leader of the "bookie" establishments in the tri-state area.

Bessemer Invests New Troop Friday

St. Anthony's Church Backs New Organization; Troop 12 To Lead

Bessemer's second Boy Scout troop, one which St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church will sponsor, will be formally invested at a program in St. Anthony's church then on Friday evening, June 22, at 8 o'clock, standard time. Ed Maley is the troop's scoutmaster.

In charge of the investiture ceremony will be troop 12 of the Second U. P. church of which Raymond Zeigler is scoutmaster. Troop 12 is a leading scout council affairs.

Fourteen Bessemer boys are listed on the new troop's charter list, Scout Executive H. G. Horton reports. Bessemer's first troop is that sponsored by the First Presbyterian church of the town.

A delicious salad for a hot day can be made by taking one-half cup watermelon, one-half cup diced oranges, one-half cup diced pineapple (fresh if possible), one-third cup French dressing. Wash, chop, chill. Mix and chill fruits. Arrange cress on service plates and add remaining ingredients.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel, drives out the toxic impurities, and restores the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

Annual Picnic Is To Be Big Event

Plans are being formulated for the annual Sunday school picnic of the Madison Avenue Christian church which is to be an event of next Wednesday, June 27, at Cascade park.

This event is always outstanding in the summer social program of the church and never fails to attract a large crowd. Arrangements are in charge of the Berean Bible class members, Mrs. C. J. Bernhart chairman.

Club Of Girls Has Park Picnic

A delicious picnic supper was enjoyed by the Happy Go Lucky Girls Wednesday afternoon at Cascade Park. It was served in the grove at 5:00 p. m. with places set for eleven.

Three special guests were present—Elizabeth Freese, of Pittsburgh, Gloria DeWolf, of Detroit, Mich., and Dorothy Stritzinger, of this city. Swimming was one of the features of the day.

HELD FOR COURT

A hearing on a larceny charge was conducted on Tuesday night at the office of Alderman H. G. Coates and the defendants, Louis Zeppitelli and A. DelMarco, of this city, were ordered held for court. They gave bail and were released. They will appear at the September term of court.

The information charging larceny was made by a Little Beaver township farmer, J. L. Ault, who claimed that the defendants and another person, referred to as John Doe, stole his dog which he values at $50. He claimed that the three men drove to his farm and in the pretense of looking over some cattle for purchasing, picked up his dog and drove away with it.

The alleged larceny took place June 14.

QUEEN LIKES WHITE

Queen Astrid of Belgium likes to wear white. She dresses her children in white, and has a white bedroom and boudoir. In fact, her entire suite in the royal villa at Ostend has much white in curtains, hangings, furniture and accessories.

A new factory projected by a group of Warwickshire, Eng. farmers is planned to can eggs, poultry and milk in addition to the more usual meats, fruits and vegetables.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Deport Portable To Senior High

Mahoning school portable was deported to the senior high school property Wednesday and by late afternoon the spot of ground on East Madison avenue where it stood was bereft of any suggestion of the building's long residence there.

The senior high school building has been crowded for several terms and the portable was believed by the school board to be of more benefit there than at Mahoning. Several rooms in the Mahoning school annex will be arranged to accommodate any overflow of students here.

Annual Picnic Is To Be Big Event

Plans are being formulated for the Madison Avenue Christian church which is to be an event of next Wednesday, June 27, at Cascade park.

This event is always outstanding in the summer social program of the church and never fails to attract a large crowd. Arrangements are in charge of the Berean Bible class members, Mrs. C. J. Bernhart chairman.

Club Of Girls Has Park Picnic

A delicious picnic supper was enjoyed by the Happy Go Lucky Girls Wednesday afternoon at Cascade Park. It was served in the grove at 5:00 p. m. with places set for eleven.

Three special guests were present—Elizabeth Freese, of Pittsburgh, Gloria DeWolf, of Detroit, Mich., and Dorothy Stritzinger, of this city. Swimming was one of the features of the day.

HELD FOR COURT

A hearing on a larceny charge was conducted on Tuesday night at the office of Alderman H. G. Coates and the defendants, Louis Zepitelli and A. DelMarco, of this city, were ordered held for court. They gave bail and were released. They will appear at the September term of court.

The information charging larceny was made by a Little Beaver township farmer, J. L. Ault, who claimed that the defendants and another person, referred to as John Doe, stole his dog which he values at $50. He claimed that the three men drove to his farm and in the pretense of looking over some cattle for purchasing, picked up his dog and drove away with it.

The defendants claimed that they did not take the dog, and did not know the "John Doe" in the case who has not as yet been apprehended.

The alleged larceny took place June 14.

One of Hollywood's film celebrities stopped off long enough in New Castle to eat breakfast in a local downtown restaurant this morning.

The young woman who was accompanied by two men and a chauffeur, when questioned by the writer, told him he was a Hollywood actress but would not disclose her name.

The woman, a blonde, was attired in a blue two piece ensemble. The party was headed for the Chicago World's Fair in a shiny new Packard. The top of the license plates read Hollywood.

HELD FOR COURT

A hearing on a larceny charge was conducted on Tuesday night at the office of Alderman H. G. Coates and the defendants, Louis Zepptelli and A. DelMarco, of this city, were ordered held for court.

They gave bail and were released. They will appear at the September term of court.

The information charging larceny was made by a Little Beaver town ship farmer, J. L. Ault, who claimed that the defendants and another person, referred to as John Doe, stole his dog which he values at $50.

He claimed that the three men drove to his farm and in the pretense of looking over some cattle for purchasing, picked up his dog and drove away with it.

The defendants claimed that they did not take the dog, and did not know the "John Doe" in the case who has not as yet been apprehended.

Pirates Trim Braves 6 To 5

Manager Traynor Slaps Out Four Hits And Scores Winning Run In Ninth

INDIANS DROP TWO AT NEW YORK CITY

By GENE LAWRENCE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 21—Where trepidation ruled among New York Giants, fans about ten days ago, bright hope took its place today as the world's champions continued to ride rough shod over the opposition in their tour through the west.

Fears and alarms felt that the giants might stumble and fall in their chase for the National League pennant had vanished as the New York Club registered its seventh victory in eight starts in the west.

Adding to their three victories in Cincinnati and three in Pittsburgh, the New Yorkers moved into Chicago where they smothered the Cubs under a barrage of hits to win 12-7.

Manager Traynor, who hit his 16th and 17th homers and clouted a single to drive in six runs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates won their first game under their new manager "Pie" Traynor, beating the Boston Braves, 6 to 5 in the ninth to regain fourth place in the standings.

Traynor scored the winning run when Whitney made a wild throw in the ninth. He also drove out three doubles and a single.

Wally Berger hit a pair of homers for the Braves.

The slowly Cincinnati Reds split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies winning the first, 6-4 and losing the nightcap, 15 to 10.

Derringer and Koip won the first game aided by Koenig's homed with Slade on base in the eighth.

Indians Lose Two

Timely hitting and excellent pitching enabled the New York Yankees to sweep both games of their twin bill from the Cleveland Indians and tighten their grip on the American League leadership.

Lou Gehrig's 18th homer in the ninth broke up the first game to give the Yanks a 3-2 triumph and Charley Red Ruffing's one hit pitching performance in the final gave them their second, 3-0.

Only Hal Trosky, who hit his 13th homer in the first game, could connect with one of Ruffing's deliveries for a hit. He singled it in the fifth.

Tallying three runs in the eleventh the Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators 13-10 and dug deeper into second place.

Red Sox Climb

Trimming the Chicago White Sox 14 to 9, the Boston Red Sox passed Cleveland for fourth place in the standings. Boston gathered 18 hits off Sam Jones and Phil Gallivan.

Pump Stations Defeat Audias

Upset Occurs In American Softball League, Scarazzos Win By Forfeit

Pump Stations softball team pulled one of the biggest upsets of the season to date at Franklin field last night by handing the strong Audias a 5 to 3 defeat.

Reardon was in rare form last night as he let the Audias down with four hits. Reardon fanned eight men. Foster was the pitcher for the Audias and was found for 11 hits.

Home runs were hit by C. Yearage and T. Strassburg, the latter also hitting a double. S. Coppel and Foster had triples. The Pumps won the game in the first of the eighth inning with a three-run rally.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Pump Stations .100 000 130-5 11 4 Audias .001 101 000-3 4 1

Batteries—Audias, Foster and Yarnucci; Pumps, Reardon and Patton. Umpires—Augustine and Scungio.

SCARAZZOS TAKE FORFEIT

Scarazzos won from the Oak A. C. by forfeit last night at the E. & O. field when the Oaks failed to show up for a scheduled game. The Scarazzos are leading the league and appear to have the title for the first half cinched.

The Unions and Tolans are not on the trail of the Scarazzos, however, and will make the race interesting. Tolans and Unions will play tonight at Canyon field at 6 o'clock in a feature game.

Mahoning A. A. has carded the fast Fullertons of Youngstown, O. for a game Saturday afternoon at the E. & A. field at 3 o'clock.

Joe Testa, the star Youngstown moundsman, will go against the Mahoning A. A. and just who Manager Cargay will use is not known, although it may be Paul McCullough.

Sunday the Mahoning A. A. will play the Koppel team at the E. & A. field at 2:30 o'clock.

Ryantown Meets Struthers Team

Ryantown will play the fast Struthers, Ohio, Slovaks tonight at the Sampson street field at 6 o'clock. Both teams are champions in their respective leagues.

Following the game both teams will be entertained at the Union Brewery. This looks like one of the best games of the current season.

Radiators Upset Cunninghams 4-2

National Radiators kept first place in the National softball league last night by defeating the Cunningham A. C. 4 to 2 in a well played and fast game at the Radiator field. Dickson and Bonfield hooked up in the year, with the latter winning the verdict.

Except for the first inning when the Rads rallied and scored four runs Dickson had the Radiator sluggers eating out of his hand. The Cunninghams could not hit Bonfield effectively, with men on base.

Ambrosia was the batting star of the game with a pair of doubles and a single.

INDIANS DROP TWO AT NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, June 21.—Where trepidation ruled among New York Giants fans about ten days ago, bright hope took its place today as the world's champions continued to ride rough shod over the opposition in their tour through the west.

Fears and alarms felt that the giants might stumble and fall in their chase for the National League pennant had vanished as the New York Club registered its seventh victory in eight starts in the west.

Adding to their three victories in Cincinnati and three in Pittsburgh, the New Yorkers moved into Chicago where they smothered the Cubs under a barrage of hits to win 12-7. Mel Ott hit his 16th and 17th homers and clouted a single to drive in six runs.

While the Giants were tightening their hold on the lead, the second place St. Louis Cardinals bowed, 9 to 5 to the second division Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers piled up 15 hits off Hallahan, Lindsey Mooney and Carlton, one of which was a homer by Tony Cuccinello.

Pirates Win
The Pittsburgh Pirates won their first game under their new manager "Pie" Traynor, beating the Boston Braves, 6 to 5 in the ninth to regain fourth place in the standings. Traynor scored the winning run when Whitney made a wild throw in the ninth. He also drove out three doubles and a single.

Wally Berger hit a pair of homers for the Braves.

The slowly Cincinnati Reds split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies winning the first, 6-4 and losing the nightcap, 15 to 10. Derringer and Kelp won the first game aided by Koenig's homed with Slade on base in the eighth.

Indians Lose Two
Timely hitting and excellent pitching enabled the New York Yankees to sweep both games of their twin bill from the Cleveland Indian and tighten their grip on the American League leadership.

Lou Gehrig's 18th homer in the ninth broke up the first game to give the Yanks a 3-2 triumph and Charley Red Ruffing's one hit pitching performance in the final gave them their second, 3-0. Only Hal Trosky, who hit his 13th homer in the first game, could connect with one of Ruffing's deliveries for a hit. He singled it in the fifth.

Tallying three runs in the eleventh the Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators 13-10 and dug deeper into second place.

Red Sox Climb
Trimming the Chicago White Sox 14 to 9, the Boston Red Sox passed Cleveland for fourth place in the standings. Boston gathered 18 hits off sad Sam Jones and Phil Gallivan.

Behind catcher Rollie Hemsley's hard hitting, the St. Louis Browns beat the Philadelphia Athletics 11 to 3.

Bob Johnson, Athletics outfielder, hit his 20th homer of the year to continue leading sluggers in both leagues.

Pump Stations Defeat Audias

Upset Occurs In American Softball League, Scarazzos Win By Forfeit

Pump Stations softball team pulled one of the biggest upsets of the season to date at Franklin field last night by handing the strong Audias a 5 to 3 defeat. Reardon was in rare form last night as he let the Audias down with four hits. Reardon fanned eight men. Foster was the pitcher for the Audias and was found for 11 hits.

Home runs were hit by C. Yearage and T. Strassburg, the latter also hitting a double. S. Copley and Foster had triples. The Pumps won the game in the first of the eighth inning with a three-run rally.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

SCARAZZOS TAKE FORFEIT
Scarazzos won from the Oak A. C. by forfeit last night at the B. & O. field when the Oaks failed to show up for a scheduled game. The Scarazzos are leading the league and appear to have the title for the first half cinched. The Unions and Tolans are hot on the trail of the Scarazzos, however, and will make the race interesting. Tolans and Unions will play tonight at Canyon field at 6 o'clock in a feature game.

Sunday the Mahoning A. A. will play the Koppel team at the E. & A. field at 2:30 o'clock.

Ryantown Meets Struthers Team

Ryantown will play the fast Struthers, Ohio, Slovaks tonight at the Sampson street field at 6 o'clock. Both teams are champions in their respective leagues. Following the game both teams will be entertained at the Union Brewery. This looks like one of the best games of the current season.

Rose Point Tops Mahoning Indies

Wheale And Farrell Hurl One-Hit Game As Rose Point Wins League Game

Rose Joint defeated the Mahoning Indies last night at the Rose Point field, 6 to 5, behind the excellent pitching of Wheale and Farrell, who allowed just one hit. The Rose Point team had eight hits off Culbertson.

The Mahonings tallied four runs in the second inning on their lone hit and errors by the Rose Pointers. Heavy hitting was done by Jackson, with a pair of doubles and a single, and by Shaffer with a triple.

AND HERE'S WHY

H up under the toughest punishment a test fleet ever handed out. Brakes gave out—but the "G-3" All-Weather kept right on rolling. It kept its grip 43% longer than former All-Weathers—twice as long as other makes of tires tested against it.

That's the big news that Goodyear told in advertising—and it started a rush of buyers to our stores—and to every Goodyear dealer's straight across the country. This tire certainly has what car owners want—more miles of safety at no extra cost. Come in—see its heavier, wider, flatter tread with GRIP in the center—and see why Supertwist, Goodyear's patented ply material, provides the only body that can stand up to this mighty tread!

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Castle bowl, formerly known as Jolly bowl, and once the mecca for lovers of punch is no more and all that remains of the building in which probably 150,000 spectators watched probably 1,000 battles took place is debris scattered around the lot at the corner of Grant and Sampson streets. During its heyday each bout showed a profit but the depression came along and made fighting unprofitable until last fall, when the returns of several pugilists produced a gain yielded a profit. The owner of the ground entered into a proposed deal whereby a gasoline station was to be erected on the site. The bowl has been torn down but the gasoline station deal has not yet materialized. Famous fighters appeared there. Some of them passed out of the picture before the bowl passed out. However, some of them are yet fighting and collection shekels, with conditions slowly but steadily growing better it is not a dream to say that another bowl will go up here. With conditions good boxing is a paying proposition here.

Among those who tossed punches there were Battling Levinsky, Emmett Rocco, Midget Wolgast, Willie Davies, Henry Firpo, Johnny Burns, Tony Herrera, George Perotta, Joey Goodman, Eddie Weegant, Rossy Stoy, Al Friedman, Joe Sekyra, Jimmy Mahoney, the late Maxie Strib, Paris Caney, Bebe Picato, the late Sammy Harris, Sam Bruce, Italian Joe Gans, Dark Cloud Bradley, Phil Tobias, Ernie Peters, Harry Goldstein, Louis Carpentier, Frisco Grande, Bucky Lawless, Billy Rose, Jackie Rodgers, Phil Goldstein, Jimmy Hackley, Jackie Rose, Phil Verdi, Johnny Datto, Jack McFarland, Romeo Facelli, Johnny Jennings, Jackie King, Elmo (the Mighty) Clark, Frankie Rio, Makie Solomon, Billy Wallace, Dick Evans, George Nichols, Harry Fuler, Gene Stanton, the Frankie Simms, Young Saylor and many others.

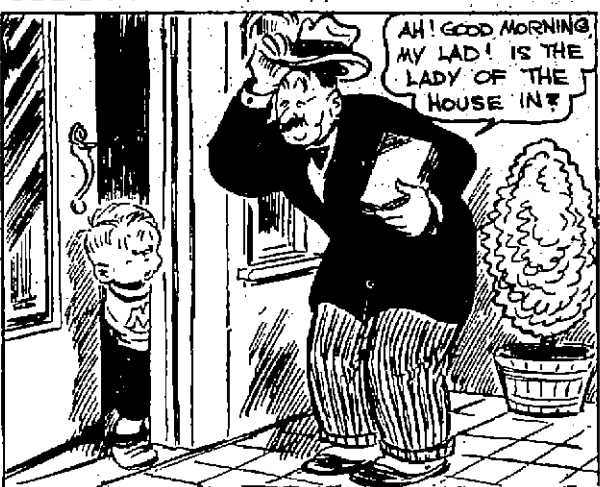

After having earned an enviable reputation as a clowning puncher, Elmo Clark was handed the name "Elmo, the Mighty" and with Warren Farrow, the dusky chap put on many good fights. The name "Pop Eye" was given Merle Gibson and Emmett Rocco, a heavy fisted lad from Ellwood City who fought the best in the country was labelled the Tarzan of the Connoquenessing. The two Philpines, Frisco Grande and Louis Carpentier were popular with the fans as were George Perotta, Henry Firpo, Willie Davies and Midget Wolgast, likewise Paris Caney, and Frankie Ferro.

Half of the fans went to the bowl to see Firpo slugged into submission and the other half went there to see him slug his antagonist into defeat. When George Perotta and he fought the doors had to be closed, and standing room was at a premium. The same situation prevailed at the Carpentier-Grande and the Wolgast-Davies bouts. The place was packed every time Rocco and Al Friedman stepped out. In fact the flyweights middleweights and heavyweights packed 'em in.

Recollections: Jimmie Dunn, his bald pate and the boots... Jimmie Dunn telling the proteges how to win... Al Lippo handling Al Friedman... Elmo's grimeases... the late Henry Goldberg writing his decision slip... Paris Caney trading punch for punch and Frankie Ferro, surprising Tony Herrera... The knock-down drag 'em out of Phil Tobias and Ernie Peters... The uproar when a mistake was made in reading the decision in the Grande-Tobias fight... The women yelling for a knockout... Young boys sneaking in through the coal hole... George chip paring the fighters... McKelrand's name stand against Johnny Datto... Bill Jolly wearing a satisfied smile... Visitors from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Erie, Meadville... The late Joe Cumo handling Rocco... Streams of ears... Crowded restaurants before and after the fights... No delays between bouts and every bout a fight... The Louis Severo-Wildcat... Ausking knock 'em down affair... Ross Fields knocking off part of Jackie Wilson's ear... The Perotta-Firpo fight... The iron man Dillon of Memphis... Cowboy Webster... The boys from the gambling houses... Social lights rubbing elbows with mill workers... Those were the days.

The fact that he gives most doesn't prove him the most generous. Another may suffer as much when he parts with a dime.

THERE was more excitement out at Frank (Pieting) Dewberry's camp the other evening. A weasel got into the coop and before he finished his lunch he had killed 14 chickens. Your old sis man was on the job and after he was sure the weasel had gone he dressed the chickens and for the next 4 or 5 days the 3 little Dewberries had their fill of chicken, fried, stewed, roasted, croquettes, in sandwiches and in noodles. The last day the boys went on strike and one little Dewberry said: "If we eat any more of this stuff, Mom, we're starting to crow and pop dogs enough of that for the whole gang."

Girl Scout Day Camp Is Success

Essential Work And Knowledge Is Gained At Annual Day Camp Here

INVITE PARENTS AND FRIENDS ON FRIDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—Once again the Ellwood Girl Scouts day camp at their cabin in Wurttemberg is proving a huge success to all reports.

Sixty-six Girl Scouts are enrolled in the camp and have been taking daily training and work since Monday. The camp this year is in charge of Miss Hilma Dahl. Eight patrols have been formed from the girls present and then several classes organized. The classes and their instructors are as follows: Nature, Mrs. William Shields and Miss Helen Gofjen; dramatics, Miss Beryl Books and Miss Bertha Burrows; pioneering, Miss Eleanor Cox and Miss Gertrude Jones; handicraft, Mrs. A. M. Gigliotti and Mrs. Paul Shaffer.

After the color exercises Monday morning most of the work was done indoors because of the rain. Some pioneer work was done on the camp site. On Tuesday the nature class studied trees, flowers and birds. The drama class gave several sketches and the pioneer class made several kitchen gadgets outdoors. Mrs. Hanger and four other visitors from New Castle were at the camp on Tuesday.

Upon resuming work yesterday the Pioneer class discovered that their camp site had been considerably disturbed, but they went about their work cheerfully and soon had the place looking as if it had never been touched. Later the whole camp heard an interesting talk on bird lore by Mrs. Clark.

Today the camp is all prepared for the visit of Miss Jean Christie, from National Girl Scout Headquarters, who will inspect the work and camp.

Fortnight Club Enjoys Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—Mrs. Marjorie Hines was a delightful hostess to the members of the Fortnight club last night at the Hostess House on Glenn avenue.

Following the serving of a delicious dinner two tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. Harry Hanger held the high score at the conclusion of the games. All present received clever favors.

Picnic Held By E. M. M. Members

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—An enjoyable picnic was held by the members of the E. M. M. club Wednesday evening at the farm of Audrey Cunningham just off the New Castle road. Husbands of members were special guests.

The 14 members present thoroughly enjoyed the bountiful picnic dinner and then the general social time after. The club plans to hold more affairs of this type in the near future.

Ellwood Dentist Takes Bride Today

Dr. E. L. Dimeo Weds Blairsville, Pa., Girl At Pittsburgh This Morning

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—An interesting wedding took place this morning at Pittsburgh when Dr. E. L. Dimeo, well known Ellwood City dentist, took for his bride Miss Gladys Johnston of Blairsville, Pa. The couple were attended by Miss Hazel Johnston, a sister of the bride, and George "Gandy" Benedict, Ellwood City high athletic coach and health instructor. Immediately after the ceremony the newlyweds left on a post-nuptial trip to Baltimore and points south.

Mrs. Harry Gabler Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—With Mrs. Elmer Moyer and son Lloyd, Mrs. George Gannon, Mrs. Chas. Flinner, Mrs. Harry Gehring, Mrs. Matheny and daughter Grace, Mrs. John Nagel, Mrs. Barkley, Mrs. Edward Dauten and Mrs. Frank Smith, as special guests, a large number of members of the Women's Missionary society of the St. Mark's Lutheran church at Lilyville were pleasantly entertained yesterday at the home of Mrs. Harry Gabler of the Wampum road.

Quilling and sewing were the diversions of the day and at noon the hostess assisted by Mrs. John Gabler served a tempting tureen luncheon. The quarterly business session was held at 2 o'clock and plans were made for the next meeting to be held on Wednesday, July 18, at the home of Mrs. Fred Gehring of near Fumell.

Vacation Bible School Closes

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—Tomorrow will mark the closing day of the daily vacation Bible school which has been held for the past three weeks at Wurttemberg U. P. church from 9 until 12 o'clock each morning. More than 90 have been enrolled at the various classes.

At 10 o'clock there will be an exhibition and display of part of the work that has been done by the children, to which all parents and friends are invited.

The work has been under the general supervision of the pastor, Rev. J. E. Caughey, and he has been assisted by Mrs. Donald Hepler, Miss Elizabeth Caughey, Miss Mary Worcester, Miss Annabelle Saunders, Miss Amy Kelder and Miss Pauline Boots.

Grange Memorial For Mrs. Pflugh

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—As a tribute to Mrs. Anna Wilson Pflugh, wife of Charles Pflugh, whose death occurred recently, a memorial service was held at the North Sewickley grange hall when members convened in regular session on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Pflugh had been an active and valuable member of the grange for many years. The services were conducted by Mrs. Sarah Caven of New Brighton, state grange correspondent, and the charter was draped for a period of 30 days.

Rev. J. R. Routledge of the Providence Baptist church paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Mrs. Pflugh.

The public is invited to attend and while no admission will be charged an offering will be taken.

Fathers-Sons Get-Together

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—One of the most enjoyable events of last evening took place at the North Sewickley Presbyterian church when the fathers and sons assembled for the annual get-together. More than 90 participated in the various events of the evening.

Following the ball game between married and single men, which resulted in a tie, the following program was enjoyed: Song, America, group invocation by Rev. Walter McFarland of Grove City, trio, Dear Old Daddy, Sam Lunan, Harry Turner and Clem Hays; toast to the fathers; Joseph Clarke; trio, Swanee River; toast to the sons, Rev. McFarland; address, Rev. Johnston of the Central Christian church, New Castle, and benediction, Rev. R. E. Bell.

Gifts were presented Mr. Gibson as the oldest father and Billy Wright the youngest son. Rev. McFarland, a former pastor of the church, gave a memorial for Robert Baird, whose death occurred recently and who for 38 years had been a valuable member of the congregation.

The affair was concluded by the serving of a delectable luncheon by members of the Women's Missionary society. Credit for the complete success of the affair is due W. J. Blinn, Clem Hayes and J. R. Clarke.

Believe Ellwood Man Is Victim

(BULLETIN)

ZELLENOPLE, Pa., June 21.—Struck by a west-bound freight train on the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, a man believed to be Loy S. Roof, of Ellwood City, was instantly killed at Harmony Junction, near here, today.

Picked up by the train crew, the body, with the skull and arms fractured, was brought to an undertaker here.

Society Meets With Mrs. George Blank

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—The Trinity Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. George Blank on Park avenue last night for its regular meeting. Mrs. John Strohecker was the leader on the occasion. There were 13 members and one guest present at the time.

The subject of discussion for the evening was "Building for World Peace." A business meeting was then held at which plans were made for their annual picnic for July 18 at Ewing Park. The families of society members will participate in this. The committee for the event will be composed of Mrs. Fred Melzer, Mrs. David Flinner and Mrs. Monberg Nelson.

At this time it was announced that the annual Donation Day at the Zellenople Orphan's Home will be held on next Thursday, the 28th. All those planning to leave donations are to do so before Wednesday 7 p. m. at the church. Cash donations are to be given to Mrs. John Strohecker.

Dr. Jordan's Book Finds Ready Sale

Surprising Response In New Castle And Lawrence County Reported

Sales of "The Lure of the Old Homestead," the book recently written by Dr. Charles G. Jordan, are finding a surprising response in New Castle and Lawrence County. The first consignment of them has been all but exhausted and a second consignment will be here on Friday. Miss Laura Stevenson is handling the sales of the book in New Castle.

Several of the characters mentioned in the book are men who are well known in New Castle. One episode concerning the tossing of a bucket of water in on a sleeping gentleman who had been mean with the boys of the neighborhood mentions a prominent citizen of Lawrence County who serves as a judge.

The book deals with life on a farm and is an interesting recital of episodes of farm life when Dr. Jordan was a boy and young man.

STOCKS

Stock Market Is Steadier Today

Stock Market Is Stimulated By Reports That Treasury Will Buy Silver

U. S. STEEL IS GIVEN SUPPORT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 21.—Stimulated by the reports from Washington that the treasury had started buying silver under the recently passed bill, the stock market regained part of its composure today and presented a steadier appearance.

The silver shares were the best performers in the list as United States Smelting jumped more than 2 points, and Cerro de Pasco, Howe Sound and American Smelting scored lesser gains.

United States Steel a weak spot yesterday was accorded better support today and rallied more than a point shortly after the opening only to run into profit taking which cut the gain in half. Other steel shares were sympathetically firm.

The utility group was again characterized by strength with Consolidated Gas reaching the best levels in months. Columbia Gas, United Corp., and several others also were improved.

In the motor shares General Motors and Chrysler were steady.

The commodity markets were featureless. Wheat, corn and the other grains were practically unchanged, and cotton advanced about 20 cents a bale. Silver rallied about 20 points on the Washington news.

Aviation, oils, and specialties were improved along with the rest of the list. National Distillers were firmer today rallying about a half a point.

Girl Scout Day Camp Is Success

Essential Work And Knowledge Is Gained At Annual Day Camp Here

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—Once again the Ellwood Girl Scouts day camp at their cabin in Wurttemberg is proving a huge success to all reports.

Sixty-six Girl Scouts are enrolled in the camp and have been taking daily training and work since Monday. The camp this year is in charge of Miss Hilma Dahl. Eight patrols have been formed from the girls present and then several classes organized. The classes and their instructors are as follows: Nature, Mrs. William Shields and Miss Helen Götjen; dramatics, Miss Betty Boots and Miss Bertha Burrows; pioneering, Miss Eleanor Cox and Miss Gertrude Jones; handicraft, Mrs. A. M. Gigliotti and Mrs. Paul Shaffer.

After the color exercises Monday morning most of the work was done indoors because of the rain. Some pioneer work was done on the camp site. On Tuesday the nature class studied rocks, trees, flowers and birds. The drama class gave several sketches and the pioneer class made several kitchen gadgets outdoors. Mrs. Hanger and four other visitors from New Castle were at the camp on Tuesday.

Upon resuming work yesterday the Pioneer class discovered that their camp site had been considerably disturbed, but they went about their work cheerfully and soon had the place looking as if it had never been touched. Later the whole camp heard an interesting talk on bird lore by Mrs. Clark.

Today the camp is all prepared for the visit of Miss Jean Christie, from National Girl Scout Headquarters, who will inspect the work and camp.

On Friday those participating in the day camp plan to put on a special program for their parents, friends and council members. This will be the last day of the camp.

Early in the week Miss Margaret Cartwright was elected camp scribe and Miss Gertrude Jones, the song leader.

Fortnight Club Enjoys Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—Mrs. Marjorie Hines was a delightful hostess to the members of the Fortnight Club last night at the Hostess House on Glenn avenue.

Following the serving of a delicious dinner two tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. Harry Harris held the high score at the conclusion of the games. All present received clever favors.

Mrs. Howard Jones invited the club to meet at her home on Orchard avenue in two weeks.

Picnic Held By E. M. M. Members

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—An enjoyable picnic was held by the members of the E. M. M. club Wednesday evening at the farm of Audrey Cunningham just off the New Castle road. Husbands of members were special guests.

The 14 members present thoroughly enjoyed the bountiful picnic dinner and then the general social time after. The club plans to hold more affairs of this type in the near future.

(International News Service)
ZELLENOPLE, Pa., June 21.—Struck by a west-bound freight train on the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, a man believed to be Loy S. Roof, of Ellwood City, was instantly killed at Harmony Junction, near here, today.

Picked up by the train crew, the body, with the skull and arms fractured, was brought to an undertaker here.

Dr. Jordan's Book Finds Ready Sale

Surprising Response In New Castle And Lawrence County Reported

Sales of "The Lure of the Old Homestead," the book recently written by Dr. Charles G. Jordan, are finding a surprising response in New Castle and Lawrence County. The first consignment of them has been all but exhausted and a second consignment will be here on Friday. Miss Laura Stevenson is handling the sales of the book in New Castle.

Several of the characters mentioned in the book are men who were well known in New Castle. One episode concerning the tossing of a bucket of water in on a sleeping gentleman who had been mean with the boys of the neighborhood mentions a prominent citizen of Lawrence County who serves as a judge.

The book deals with life on a farm and is an interesting recital of episodes of farm life when Dr. Jordan was a boy and young man.

Society Meets With Mrs. George Blank

ELLWOOD CITY, June 21.—Women's Missionary Society of the Trinity Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. George Blank on Park avenue last night for its regular meeting. Mrs. John Strohecker was the leader on the occasion. There were 13 members and one guest present at the time.

The subject of discussion for the evening was "Building for World Peace." A business meeting was then held at which plans were made for their annual picnic for July 18 at Ewing Park. The families of society members will participate in this. The committee for the event will be composed of Mrs. Fred Melzer, Mrs. David Flinner and Mrs. Monberg Nelson.

At this time it was announced that the annual Donation Day at the Zellenople Orphan's Home will be held on next Thursday, the 28th. All those planning to leave donations are to do so before Wednesday 7 p. m. at the church. Cash donations are to be given to Mrs. John Strohecker.

Dr. Jordan's Book Finds Ready Sale

Surprising Response In New Castle And Lawrence County Reported

Sales of "The Lure of the Old Homestead," the book recently written by Dr. Charles G. Jordan, are finding a surprising response in New Castle and Lawrence County. The first consignment of them has been all but exhausted and a second consignment will be here on Friday. Miss Laura Stevenson is handling the sales of the book in New Castle.

Several of the characters mentioned in the book are men who are well known in New Castle. One episode concerning the tossing of a bucket of water in on a sleeping gentleman who had been mean with the boys of the neighborhood mentions a prominent citizen of Lawrence County who serves as a judge.

The book deals with life on a farm and is an interesting recital of episodes of farm life when Dr. Jordan was a boy and young man.

STOCKS

Stock Market Is Steadier Today

Stock Market Is Stimulated By Reports That Treasury Will Buy Silver

U. S. STEEL IS GIVEN SUPPORT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 21.—Stimulated by the reports from Washington that the treasury had started buying silver under the recently passed bill, the stock market regained part of its composure today and presented a steadier appearance.

The silver shares were the best performers in the list. United States Smelting jumped more than 2 points, and Cerro de Pasco, Howe Sound and American Smelting scored lesser gains.

United States Steel a weak spot yesterday was accorded better support today and rallied more than a point shortly after the opening only to run into profit taking which cut the gain in half. Other steel shares were sympathetically firm.

The utility group was again characterized by strength with Consolidated Gas reaching the best levels in months. Columbia Gas, United Corp., and several others also were improved.

In the motor shares General Motors and Chrysler were steady. The commodity markets were featureless. Wheat, corn and the other grains were practically unchanged, and cotton advanced about 20 cents a bale. Silver rallied about 20 points on the Washington news.

Aviation, oil and specialties were improved along with the rest of the list. National Distillers were firmer today rallying about a half a point.

Report Burglars Get $500 Loot

Shenango Motor Company
Safe Is Robbed During Night

Burglars sometime between 2:30 a. m. and 6 a. m. robbed a steel safe of approximately $500 at the Shenango Motor Company according to detective bureau reports today. Detective Chief McMullen obtained some fingerprints on the safe which was also used to file records. According to the city detective squad the robbery occurred after 2:30 a. m. when the watchman left. The burglars entered through a rear door to the wash room then went to the office on the second floor. They cut a piece of rubber matting from a new automobile and held it against the safe knob while they hammered the knob off. After the knob was knocked off it was easy to open the safe doors. The thieves, it is said, overlooked other money. After the theft had been made the burglars attempted to obliterate fingerprints by rubbing the rubber matting around the portion of the safe door.

Woman Squire Now Has Geese

Alleged Stolen Fowl Placed In
Mrs. Lanigan's Custody

Mrs. Gertrude Lanigan, justice of the peace of Union township, today is the official keeper of several geese because the state police and County Detective Leslie yesterday arrested one Joe Kratofil, Mahoning township after Dan Stellick, also Mahoning township, swore to an information in which he charged the former with having stolen not only several geese but also some chickens recently. Kratofil denies the theft. He maintains he bought the fowls in Ohio. Stellick claims he traced the fowls by feathers to Kratofil's place. Both are farmers. He claims to have seen the geese in a crate. At that time Kratofil was absent from the house. When he returned a second time the geese were wandering around. The officers brought the geese to the justice of the peace of Union township and he must feed them and water them until Kratofil's hearing comes up June 27. He is now out on bail of $200.

Report Burglars Get $500 Loot

Shenango Motor Company
Safe Is Robbed During Night

Burglars sometime between 2:30 a. m. and 6 a. m. robbed a steel safe of approximately $500 at the Shenango Motor Company according to detective bureau reports today. Detective Chas. McMullen obtained some fingerprints on the safe which was also used to file records.

According to the city detective squad the robbery occurred after 2:30 a. m. when the watchman left. The burglars entered through a rear door to the wash room then went to the office on the second floor.

They cut a piece of rubber matting from a new automobile and held it against the safe knob while they hammered the knob off.

After the knob was knocked off it was easy to open the safe doors. The thieves, it is said, overlooked other money.

After the theft had been made the burglars attempted to obliterate fingerprints by rubbing the rubber matting around the portion of the safe door.

Woman Squire Now Has Geese

Alleged Stolen Fowl Placed In
Mrs. Lanigan's
Custody

Mrs. Gertrude Lanigan, justice of the peace of Union township, today is the official keeper of several geese because the state police and County Detective Leslie yesterday arrested one Joe Kratofil, Mahoning township after Dan Stellick, also Mahoning township, swore to an information in which he charged the former with having stolen not only several geese but also some chickens recently. Kratofil denies the theft. He maintains he bought the fowls in Ohio.

Stellick claims he traced the fowls by feathers to Kratofil's place. Both are farmers. He claims to have seen the geese in a crate. At that time Kratofil was absent from the house. When he returned a second time the geese were wandering around. The officers brought the geese to the justice of the peace office and she must feed 'em and water 'em until Kratofil's hearing comes up June 27. He is now out on bail of $200.

Two Hit By Cars, Neither Injured

Young Boy And Aged Man

Two persons were struck by automobiles here yesterday but neither was injured, according to police.

A small boy is said to have run into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Frank J. Patterson, 117 Crawford avenue, at County Line street and Crawford avenue about 5 p. m. The boy was knocked down but got up instantly and ran away.

Sylvia Deli, 8 Bank street, reported to have driven a car which struck a car at East Washington and Water street. He refused to go to a doctor. He gave his name as Cartwright.

Veterans Can Go To Forest Camps

Enrollment in the Veteran's C. C. C. camps has been extended to Mar. 31, 1935 according to information received by G. B. Hull of State Employment service here. All Lawrence County veterans who desire to go into a C. C. C. camp can register their names with Mr. Hull. He has also asked that all veterans who have been placed on various jobs throughout the county and who are not now working, get their names back on the active roll of veterans on file in the employment office.

Pay Forty Cents An Hour For Street Work

Citizens who owe back taxes and secure work on the resurfacing jobs which will likely start Monday will be paid forty cents an hour it was stated by City Engineer Hoskins today. The men will be asked to sign an article of agreement whereby they will permit the city to retain one half of the wages due them to be applied on the taxes.

Report Burglars Get $500 Loot

Shenango Motor Company
Safe Is Robbed During Night

Burglars sometime between 2:30 a. m. and 6 a. m. robbed a steel safe of approximately $500 at the Shenango Motor Company according to detective bureau reports today. Detective Chief McMullen obtained some fingerprints on the safe which was also used to file records.

According to the city detective squad the robbery occurred after 2:30 a. m. when the watchman left. The burglars entered through a rear door to the wash room then went to the office on the second floor.

They cut a piece of rubber matting from a new automobile and held it against the safe knob while they hammered the knob off.

After the theft had been made the burglars attempted to obliterate fingerprints by rubbing the rubber matting around the portion of the safe door.

Woman Squire Now Has Geese

Alleged Stolen Fowl Placed In
Mrs. Lanigan's
Custody

Mrs. Gertrude Lanigan, justice of the peace of Union township, today is the official keeper of several geese because the state police and County Detective Leslie yesterday arrested one Joe Kratofil, Mahoning township after Dan Stellick, also Mahoning township, swore to an information in which he charged the former with having stolen not only several geese but also some chickens recently. Kratofil denies the theft. He maintains he bought the fowls in Ohio.

Stellick claims he traced the fowls by feathers to Kratofil's place. Both are farmers. He claims to have seen the geese in a crate. At that time Kratofil was absent from the house. When he returned a second time the geese were wandering around. The officers brought the geese to the justice of the peace office and she must feed 'em and water 'em until Kratofil's hearing comes up June 27. He is now out on bail of $200.

Two Hit By Cars, Neither Injured

Two persons were struck by automobiles here yesterday but neither was injured, according to police.

A small boy is said to have run into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Frank J. Patterson, 117 Crawford avenue, at County Line street and Crawford avenue about 5 p. m. The boy was knocked down but got up instantly and ran away.

Sylvia Dell, 8 Bank street, reportedly to have driven a car which struck a car at East Washington and Water street. He refused to go to a doctor. He gave his name as Cartwright.

Veterans Can Go To Forest Camps

Enrollment in the Veteran's C. C. C. camps has been extended to Mar. 31, 1935 according to information received by C. B. Hull of State Employment service here. All Lawrence County veterans who desire to go into a C. C. C. camp can register their names with Mr. Hull.

He has also asked that all veterans who have been placed on various jobs throughout the county and who are not now working, get their names back on the active roll of veterans on file in the employment office.

Pay Forty Cents An Hour For Street Work

Citizens who owe back taxes and secure work on the resurfacing jobs which will likely start Monday will be paid forty cents an hour it was stated by City Engineer Hoskins today. The men will be asked to sign an article of agreement whereby they will permit the city to retain one half of the wages due them to be applied on the taxes.
